Romulus interests industry

Future growth in city looks rosy

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

While other communities surrounding it stagnate in slow growth because of the energy crisis and the economic pinch, Romulus appears to have a rosier future.

Or so thinks John Chihan, the city's economic developer and planner.

"It appears as though industries and some commercial properties are interested in moving into the city," Chihan said. "Romulus has a lot of things going for it particularly the availability of natural gas."

ROMULUS IS served by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. — a firm that planned years ago for natural gas supplies and that does not suffer from the energy crisis.

Just north of Van Born Road, communities are served by Consumers Power Co. — a firm that has had supply problems for nearly 2½ years.

'It's only a matter of time before this community will rush ahead of others...'

Consumers has had to place an embargo on all new gas orders for commercial and industrial customers to satisfy the need for household heating.

"I know communities north of here that use propane to satisfy their heating needs," Chihan said. "It creates a development problem for them."

"CHIHAN added that Romulus also benefits from good expressways, two good railway connections and the Detroit

Metropolitan Airport in luring industry.

"Industry and commerce need transportation to survive," Chihan said. "For that reason, Romulus is ideal, as evidenced by the industries now located in the city."

"Kelsey Hayes and Detroit Diesel are engaged in heavy manufacturing — an operation which dictates good rail and freeway connections."

"The city also has small parts manufacturing operations which need freeways for trucking and the airport for quick transport to anyplace in the world."

"ROMULUS, unlike many other cities, has the unique opportunity to attract a wide spectrum of industries."

Yet, Romulus does have its short-comings, according to Chihan.

"Many of the local major roads are in poor shape and the drainage isn't as good as it should be," the economic developer said.

"There are plans to take care of both problems in the paving and drainage programs proposed by Mayor (Terry L.) Troutt," he added.

ANOTHER problem Romulus has been faced with is the airport, Chihan said.

"Although people knew it (the airport) would serve a need for long distance travel, they never knew which way it was expanding...until recently," he added.

"The city now knows, with some certainty, that the airport will stay within certain bounds and assure private developers they won't lose property to airport expansion."

Yet, where industrial development looks rosy, the commercial development picture is a bit more cloudy.

"I'm confident, though, that Romulus will have a fine shopping complex in the relatively near future," Chihan said. "It's only a matter of time before this community will rush ahead of the others surrounding it."

Change in city budget could affect services

The Romulus City Council has two budget choices. It can cut spending by $32,000 and keep service at the current level, or it can increase spending by $610,000 for improved services.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt has offered the council those two alternatives in the two budgets he proposed last week.

Neither proposal will cost the taxpayers more money.

"THE CITY IS going to get a slight increase in revenue this year with the increase in the state equalization factor," Troutt said. "So there's no critical need for more millage."

"But the city will have to do some redistribution of millage to increase funds in the budget."

Troutt said his second proposal — calling for increases in recreation and public and police services — can be financed with the excess millage levied for sewer construction in the city.

"The city can divert three or four mills for one year from the sewer debt retirement fund and still keep up payments," Troutt said. "My proposals could be tough to implement with three mills, so four may be diverted into the general fund for a year."

THE MAYOR SAID his second proposal calls for $250,000 to match state gasoline and weight tax funds to continue the road paving program.

"The city is well along the way on this year's program," he added. "But to make it effective, the program has to be continued."

In Troutt's second budget proposal, $250,000 will be used to purchase two recreational sites similar to those at Henry Ruff and Beverly roads and at Merriman Road south of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

"I promise (while campaigning) all the citizens parks within walking distance of their homes," Troutt said. "I would hope the council adopts this proposal."

THE MAYOR also proposes $110,000 for hiring a juvenile officer and two plainclothes detectives.

"They'd be part of the Wayne County Sheriff Department assigned to Romulus on a full-time basis to handle juvenile problems and to handle continuing investigation of crimes in the community," the mayor said. A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for 7 p.m. May 8 in the city council chambers at the city hall. The budget proposals will be available at the city clerk's office prior to the meeting for perusal by Romulus citizens.

Public employees propose pay hike

Public employees in Romulus have proposed a contract calling for a 69-cent-per-hour across the board increase during the next two years. The total package would cost the city $220,000.

In the first negotiating session, the employees demanded more paid holidays, a cost of living allowance and a switch from a Teamsters Union health insurance plan to Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage, according to Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

"The city's negotiating team will present its requests at a future meeting," Troutt said.

"The union employees deserve a raise because of the hike in the cost of living and the fact they're underpaid compared to other community standards."

But, Troutt said he cannot offer those raises.

The city's negotiating team only includes members of the city council.

It is headed by Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally, and includes Joan A. Lee, William Oakley and J. A. Trumble.

Troutt said his administration is ready to offer any help that may be needed by the city's negotiating team.

Treasurer acclimates auditing firm to city

For the second time in less than six months, Romulus Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz has begun breaking in a new auditing firm for the city. The new auditor is the firm of Doyle and Litt Co.

"We're forwarding all the information available on the books to the firm, so it promptly can begin auditing the city's books when this fiscal year ends June 30," Lewkowicz said. "It's difficult breaking in a new firm, but you've got to do it to insure that the city's finances are up to par."

Lewkowicz employed the new firm after the city's former auditors resigned due to a lack of manpower.

THE RESIGNATION came shortly after Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar caught the former firm performing a poor inventory of the city's holdings, one of which claimed that goods valued at more than $5,000 were missing and failed to turn up another

Lambert coordinates efforts to solve problems in Romulus

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus' future looks brighter. The mayor expects to lure more industry and business into the community and residents are cleaning up their property to try to change the city's image.

As Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt plans for the city's future, he also is paving the way for more efficient city services today.

And there's one city employee who probably should be given an award suffering "headaches" as he handles complaints related to the services, according to some Romulus officials.

DANIEL I. Lambert, a life-time resident of the city, has been director of the Romulus Department of Responsive Government for six months, since its inception.

"It's tough keeping on top of the problems in this city," Lambert said. "But I enjoy the job because I'm helping the people in this community."

The purpose of the new city department is to try to solve citizen's problems...be they drainage, roads or even pollution.

"It seems as though the complaints never change — they only get bigger," Lambert said. "There always has been a drainage problem, but now with more development, it's more acute.

"THERE ALSO always has been a problem with keeping the roads up in spring, but it's increased now that traffic has increased."

The biggest complaints the department receives are about former complaints that have not been taken care of.

Lambert asked: "How can you tell a man who's being flooded out of his yard to remain patient until the water goes down so the city can correct the situation?"

Spring cleanup helps Romulus' appearance

The spring cleaning efforts in Romulus are becoming visible. Lawns have been uncluttered, junk lies along roadsides awaiting pick up and youngsters are working diligently along county roads to clean ditches.

"There are parts of this town which caused me some real pain to see," Mayor Terry L. Troutt said. "Now I go through them and it makes me proud to be a resident of Romulus."

"This city has a lot of community-minded people in it who are concerned about the city's appearance."

"AND IT SHOWS in the way they're sprucing up Romulus."

Residents, city employees and school-aged youngsters hired by the city, have been scouring Romulus during a month-long campaign to show they've got pride in the city.

Troutt hired 45 youngsters on a cooperative program between the school district and the city.

"THE CITY gives them employment...and some spending money," the mayor added. "And they help make a better community for everyone."

'I'm happy with the results...'

"I'm happy with the results...so far."

Citizens also have been cleaning their yards and leaving the refuse for the city's rubbish collector.

"Places which haven't been kept up for years now are clean," Troutt said.

MANY RESIDENTS cleaned up their property after Troutt urged that a "clean city shows pride in the community."

Others needed a special warning notice and the threat of tickets to get into the clean-up spirit.

"I'm pleased with the cooperation so far," Troutt said. "But there still are some violators. They'll have until Monday before city inspectors will be out in force issuing tickets for eyesores."

The inspectors had been checking vacant lots and commercial-industrial properties for their cooperation in the clean-up plan, but starting Monday they will be checking individual homes.

"THERE WILL be no excuse then," Troutt said. "Every home in this community received notification of the clean-up project last month, so the inspection should be no surprise."

"In another month, you may not be able to recognize some portions of this community...they'll be clean."

And, it'll all be a tribute to the citizens of Romulus, because they have proven they have pride in the community."

months; Anna Horvath, 6750 Niagara and five-year-old Dawn Wilsner. The neighbors sometimes ride until 1 a.m. enjoying the balmy spring days and the clean neighborhood. All areas in Romulus soon will look as good as this one as the mayor's clean-up campaign nears an end. —Roman photo.

For career education

Van Buren eyes class

Van Buren Public School District is among 20 districts in Wayne County invited to take part in an expanded, in-service career education program being fielded by the Wayne County Intermediate School District and Wayne State University (WSU).

Representatives of the 20 school systems recently attended an invitational meeting on the new program.

As a follow-up to the meeting, the school district administrators will be surveyed as to their interest in participating in career education.

The in-service program being offered to the school districts includes a series of two-hour workshops, consultation services from the intermediate district and WSU, graduate credit courses, a master's degree program with an emphasis on career education and four-week summer workshops.

The program also offers weekend college, taught on Saturdays and Sundays, and courses offered by university personnel in the schools.

According to spokesman for the intermediate school district, the development and refinement of career education principles, concepts and teaching strategies depend on direct participation by classroom teachers.

Bike marathon to benefit school's parking lot paving

The parking lot between Huron Senior and Junior High Schools in New Boston has become so riddled with chuckholes that the senior high student council has decided to help speed up the paving process financially.

The council is sponsoring a bike marathon Friday and Saturday to raise money for the paving project, which recently was approved by the Huron Board of Education.

Beginning at 4:30 p.m. Friday and continuing until 4:30 p.m. Saturday, the bike marathon will be accompanied by a fireworks display, four feature-length movies and a pancake and sausage breakfast. The movies are "Pete and Tilly," "The Wild Ones," "The Heartbreak Kid," and "The Maltese Falcon." The breakfast will be at 7 a.m. Saturday. Marathon riders still are seeking sponsors. Interested persons should call the high school at 782-1436.

Bill for sewage treatment to go up for area residents

Residents in 13 communities including Belleville, Romulus and Van Buren Township will pay for the recent increase in price of liquid chlorine used in the sewage treatment process.

The Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) has taken steps to fight a cost increase which would almost double the price of liquid chlorine.

Michael Berry, board chairman, said the WCRC will pay the new rate demanded by Dow Chemical, under protest since the liquid chlorine is needed for health reasons.

POINTING OUT that there is no scarcity in the product, Berry said the commission will ask Michigan's U.S. Congressional Delegation to investigate the cost increases.

He also said he would contact the Anti-Trust Division of the State Attorney General's Office to determine why no other suppliers had bid on the chlorine when the product is available.

About 1,375 tons of chlorine are used per year at the Wyandotte Treatment Plant and sub stations to service 360,000 residents.

In referring to the price increase as "a rape of the consumer", Berry said the higher chlorine rates will be reflected in the home owner's bill for the service.

COMMUNITIES effected by the price increases are Allen Park, Belleville, Brownstown Township, Dearborn Heights, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, River Rouge, Romulus, Southgate, Taylor, Van Buren Township, Wyandotte and Ypsilanti Township.

The WCRC entered into an agreement with Dow Chemical in December to provide liquid chlorine at $65 per ton. At that time the company informed the commission that it had a request before the Cost of Living Council to increase the price to $81.

The federal government subsequently approved an increase to $79 before lifting the ceiling on the product. Now, Dow has asked the road commission to pay $120 per ton or possibly face a 15-day cancellation of the agreement.

Due to the necessity of the product, Berry said the commission will pay the increased rates under protest and consider litigation.

Romulus firm gets contract

A contract for the paving of the parking lot adjacent to Van Buren Township's new town hall facility has been awarded to the Metropolitan Asphalt Co. Inc. of Romulus.

A $23,622.25 proposal submitted by the Romulus firm was the lowest of two received by township officials for the asphalt paving.

Other matters discussed at a recent session of the township trustees included a request by Canton Township to form a joint authority for construction bond programs.

Van Buren Trustee Stephen J. Kuchta suggested that invitations be sent to surrounding communities to see if others would like to join the authority.

The trustees also plan to send a letter to the Detroit Edison Co., former owners of Belleville Lake, requesting all records relating to the lake and Edison Dam.

Huron programming reflects usage of new millage funds

Nothing but a rosy future looms for the Huron Public School District it seems, since the district received overwhelming approval of its 4.35 mill tax increase request and has begun putting it to use.

New programs and classes dot the agenda at school board meetings and the district even plans to hire 10 new staff members.

But most promising of all is a new series of vocational classes being instituted at Huron High School. MORE THAN 100 science class students planted 1100 pine and spruce seedlings on the high school-junior high complex Monday and yesterday in conjunction with a new landscaping course, and the district has plans in the making for a food service class to accompany existing vocational courses in machine shop and cosmetology, ac-ording to Phil Dalley, school administrative assistant.

And perhaps the most appealing aspect of the courses, aside from their future occupational value, is the minimal cost to the district to operate them, Dalley said.

"We figure out the per-pupil cost of the classes and pay for that, but the state picks up any added cost," Dalley said. "The state is encouraging school districts to offer more practical, vocational courses."

"It ends up costing us just what an 11th grade world affairs class would cost, for example," he continued. "Anything beyond the normal cost of materials and a teacher is paid for by the state."

HURON HAS nearly six vocational classes currently operating on the drawing board, and Dalley said the landscaping course actually will get into full swing next fall. State approval for the food services class still is pending, he added.

"I'm very excited about this landscaping course," he said. "I can look out my window and see the trees and it really looks good."

Efforts change image

"I put myself in that man's shoes and I know he wants service, just like I would want service," he added. "But, sometimes we can't solve the problem right away."

"I GET CALLS about poor drainage, but a grade can't be surveyed to determine how the water should flow until the water's gone."

"Or a road can't be graded or gravel added when it's muddy."

Even with all the complaints Lambert's job isn't all frustration.

"HE HAS BEEN able to tackle...and conquer some pressing problems."

One major accomplishment was his work with the Wayne County Air Pollution Control Division to get the Heckman and Williams Co. to shut down its operation near Goddard Road and the railroad tracks.

The company's operation sent a dust cloud over the community, Lambert said.

"The dust left an imprint wherever it settled and faded paint on automobiles," he added. "After some work, this department got the company to shut down."

LAMBERT SAID he is tackling another chemical processing operation in an effort to improve the city's environment along Van Born Road.

Since he has been in office, Lambert has taken more than 1,100 complaints and has been able to solve 900 of them.

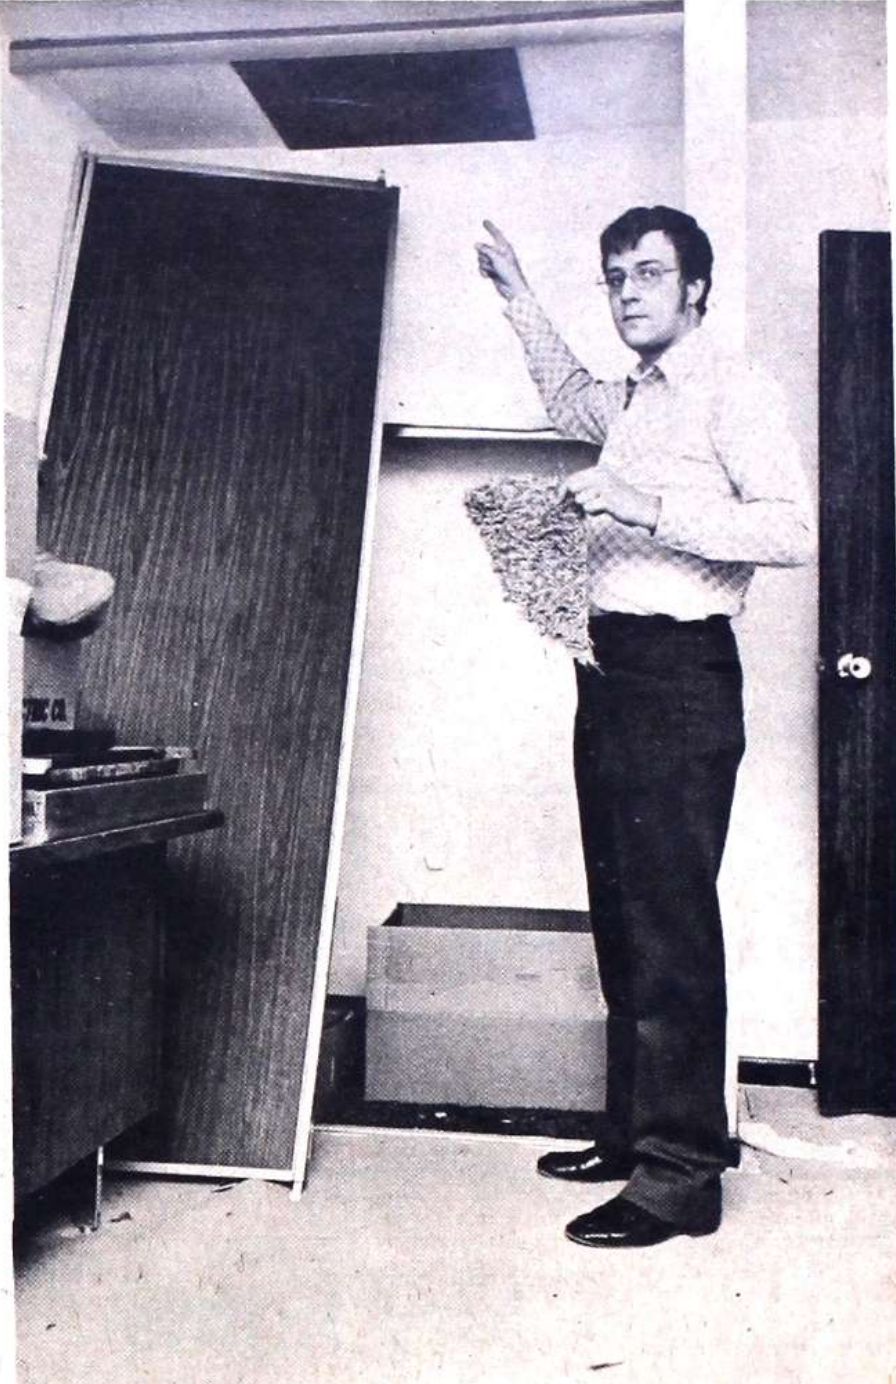

"The work's satisfying," he said. "But it's those other 200 complaints which cause headaches — not only for me, but for those residents who have them."

And Lambert and the Romulus Department of Responsive Government is working to solve those problems.

Ford donates land

The Ford Motor Co. has donated 20 acres of land to Van Buren Township for the development of baseball facilities in the township.

The announcement, made by Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer and Township Clerk Patricia Cullin, Monday, ends two years of negotiations with the General Motors Corp. and Ford for a recreational site.

Arrowsmith eyes time

Wayne County Commissioner Brian Arrowsmith (R-27th District) supports an earlier closing time for Belleville's Victory Park.

The Belleville City Council had requested that the county park be closed at 10 p.m., following a series of late evening disturbances at the recreational site.

Officials stay mum on threatened suit

Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore said he has received one reply from the four letters the township mailed to the federal government, the state, Wayne County and Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority (HCMA), threatening them with lawsuits if nearly $500,000 in alleged grants is not paid the township.

Moore said the HCMA replied to his letter and requested further information on why Huron feels the authority owes it money he said.

"They didn't say one way or another if they intended to pay us, but just wanted complete information on the matter."

THE THREATENED lawsuits stem from a sewer interceptor installation project begun in 1968 which Huron claims it was deprived of nearly $500,000 in state and federal grants. The HCMA was involved in the sewer project.

Moore said the township has instructed its attorneys to begin suit proceedings against the federal government, but that they have not yet filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

In a surprising turn of events, Moore said the county has decided to agree with Huron on the justification of the suits.

"They're sort of agreeing with us on it, even though they won't admit they owe us anything," he said. "But the county does admit that the federal government owes us the $167,000 grant" allegedly promised the township at the sewer project's outset.

"THE COUNTY agrees that a lawsuit is the only way to resolve it," he said. "I have a feeling it won't be as hard to get our money as we first thought."

Moore said the state had paid the township $33,000 for a treatment plant grant within the last six months, but he had not been aware of it. Huron had intended to sue for the money.

Folmar found all but $500 of the missing goods and added the other items to the city's inventory.

Lewkowicz said he is confident the city's new firm, which has been in the business for 30 years, can handle the job.

"There should be no problem with them," he said. "It's all a matter of bringing them up to date right now."

LEWKOWICZ SAID he also is awaiting the results of his first audit as city treasurer.

Inspectors from the Wayne County Treasurer's office are checking tax books, following Lewkowicz' distribution of the 1974-75 tax bills.

"It's a matter of procedure for the county to make sure every community's tax rolls agree with their own computations," he said. "But it's the first time for me, and I'm kind of eager to find out the results of our work."

Bandits raid dream home; Take appliances, carpet

Melvin Coon, 31, hasn't felt too welcomed in Romulus.

Less than one week after he moved into his new home in the Eureka Road-Middlebelt Road area, he was robbed twice.

"First someone tore up all the carpeting in the house and then, someone robbed us of more than $2,000 in jewelry and appliances while we were away," he said.

COON AND his 26-year-old wife Nancy, have been saving for the past two years to purchase a home for themselves and their six-year-old daughter, Lisa.

"It's everyman's dream to move into his own home," Coon said.

He added that he thinks youthful vandals struck his home shortly before he occupied it. They tore up his carpeting and removed about $200 worth.

The next night, officers of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol captured two 14-year-old Taylor youths attempting to climb into the attic of the house.

"WE ONLY know of one neighbor, and she said many of the homes in this subdivision have been robbed," Coon said. "I can't blame it on the police or the city. It's apparent thieves—particularly children—who aren't afraid of the law."

Coon said he felt especially bitter because he knows the two youths captured in his home are free.

Coon said that although he doesn't blame his special "greeting" on Romulus' residents, he's already looking for a new place to live.

"The insurance company's getting tired of this, and I'm afraid they'll cancel us," Coon said. "It seems as though everything is lost, because I'm sure we can't get our goods back."

"It's a sobering experience after looking forward to owning our own home for so long."

To clear the 'Presidency'

Romney favors impeachment verdict

By TOM OCHILTREE
Enterprise-Roman Washington Bureau Chief

George Romney believes Congress should carry through the impeachment process to a verdict one way or the other on President Nixon.

Only by following this route, the former Michigan governor and cabinet member said, can a tragic division of public opinion be avoided and the authority of the office of the presidency maintained.

During a question and answer period at a breakfast meeting, Romney said he felt it would not be advisable for President Nixon to resign because of Watergate.

"HIS RESIGNATION," Romney explained, "would tend to create a serious divisive situation in the country and make it difficult for his successor. There are still a hard core of people who believe Nixon is the victim of a contrived situation - of a media conspiracy, etc."

In Romney's view the impeachment process, with everything out in the open, "is the best way to avoid" antagonizing those people.

'If anything, they had a blind loyalty'

IMPEACHMENT, SIMILAR to a grand jury indictment, is voted by a majority of the House. The Senate tries the case with a two-thirds vote required for conviction. The only penalty provided is removal from office.

Removal of Nixon in this way would end the Watergate crisis once and for all.

"If by a decision of Congress the President, on the other hand, is not removed from office, that decision in itself would help to restore his authority - to the extent that the damage that already has been done can be minimized."

DISCUSSING WHAT he felt the public reaction would be if Vice President Gerald R.

Ford, another Michigander, succeeded to the presidency, Romney said:

"I think Gerald Ford has demonstrated a capacity well beyond what people had anticipated. He has demonstrated an ability to deal effectively with the tough public questions which have been thrown at him, to maintain his integrity and to avoid undercutting the president's capacity to govern. All this has taken a great deal of skill."

"Gerald Ford is much better qualified than many men who have become president of the United States."

ROMNEY, AN INDUSTRIALIST turned politician, had presidential ambitions himself in 1968. During the first term of the Nixon Administration he served as Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Looking back on the whole Watergate episode, Romney said he had no personal knowledge of what occurred, but from his cabinet days he formed the impression that none of Nixon's advisers and aides carried out any important actions without the president's concurrence and knowledge.

Men like Maurice H. Stans, John N. Mitchell, H.R. (Bob) Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman "were completely loyal to the president," Romney said. "If anything, they had a blind loyalty."

ROMNEY MAINTAINED the recent loss of a republican congressional seat in Michigan's eighth district was due primarily to the public reaction against Watergate.

He suggested that all Republican candidates "would be wise to run scared." But he felt that Michigan Gov. William G. Milliken would win re-election "because he has done a good job and people recognize that he was not connected in any way with the events in Washington."

Romney now is chairman of the National Center for Voluntary Action - an organization dedicated to stimulating volunteer work on the whole spectrum of social problems.

Asked if he might be asked to serve in the cabinet again if Ford became president, Romney said he would not expect to be considered for such a post. He indicated he felt he could perform his most valuable service now by developing the volunteer concept in the nation.

As we see it

Grand Jury fights crime, corruption

We agree with Circuit Judge Victor J. Baum that citizen cooperation is necessary for the Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury to achieve success in the never-ending war against crime.

Judge Baum, while heading up the 17-member Grand Jury, said the panel consists of ordinary citizens doing their share to expose crime and corruption.

But he admits it takes more than a Grand Jury panel to fight crime—it takes the total cooperation of all concerned citizens.

Though drafted for their panel duty, Grand Jurors perform a noble task. Each serves at considerable personal sacrifice.

How can you help the Grand Jury fight crime and corruption? You can, with a simple letter or postcard—and they can be sent to the Grand Jury without signatures.

A tip to the Grand Jury might save the life of a friend, or your very own. The judge stressed that the Grand Jury is not fussy about the completeness of the information supplied. If the sender believes that the information concerns something that appears to be against the law—the Grand Jury wants to know.

For example, it might be about narcotics traffic—the kind of information that led recently to 29 indictments by the Citizens Grand Jury.

Providing information to the Citizens Grand Jury and to local police is a citizen responsibility.

Furthermore, it's knowing you've done something to help eradicate the web of crime and corruption in our society.

You can start today with a postcard or letter to the Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury, P.O. Box 30, Detroit, MI 48231.

Betty Ford talks like a candidate

Would not hold Jerry to earlier commitment

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Bureau Chief

As of now, there appears to be little substance to those reports that personal considerations will prevent Vice President Gerald R. Ford from seeking the Republican presidential nomination in 1976.

Knowledge that there is no family block to Ford's ambitions could even clear the way for a draft movement on his behalf at the next GOP national convention.

SOME TIME AGO, during a quiet family discussion, Ford promised his attractive wife, Betty, that he would seek one more term in the House of Representatives and then retire from an active role in national politics.

Betty Ford suffers from a pinched nerve in her neck. Both she and her husband know the demanding role a politician's wife has to play during campaign time.

There are the miles of travel, the indifferently meals, the hammering waves of sounds from cheering crowds and high school bands. The candidate gets an obvious stimulation from all this. His wife just takes the punishment and sits beside him on the platform with a permanent smile on her face.

IT IS UNDERSTANDABLE that Ford, out of consideration for his wife, would be willing to pack up the life he knows so well.

When he made the promise to Betty, Ford was the congressman from Grand Rapids whose national exposure related to his job as house minority leader.

But the stakes of the game have changed a great deal since Ford became vice president on Dec. 6. Replacing the fallen Spiro T. Agnew.

CAMPAGNING AS A presidential candidate is much different than turning your back on a chance to become president. It is much different for the candidate's wife as well.

Mrs. Ford recently confirmed the promise her husband had made even as she played down the importance of the problem with her neck. That can be kept under control, she explained, by a nerve relaxer.

FURTHERMORE, SHE said she "would

'I would never stand in his way. I am more interested in the future of this country than in my own little desires.'

didate is many, many times harder than running for congress. The candidate, members of his family and his campaign staff live largely on coffee and stretched nerves as the race for the White House progresses. Yet you can't beat the prize that goes to the victor.

The Fords obviously could visualize a quiet life after he ran one more time for the House. Retiring under such circumstances, however, never hold" her husband to that earlier commitment particularly when the United States faces so many problems.

"I would never stand in his way," she said. "I am more interested in the future of this country than in my own little desires."

FORD IS ONE OF THREE men who seem now to be in the best position to make a serious bid for the 1976 nomination. Former

New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and California Gov. Ronald Reagan are the other two.

A bet that Ford's name would go before the next convention would seem like one of the safest wagers in the world even though he has gone out of his way to discourage such speculation.

In the last four months he has traveled 40,000 miles and preached the Republican gospel to a party demoralized by Watergate.

That travel in itself would seem like the behavior of an active candidate, but Ford insists that is not his purpose. He explains that his appearance in a town increases the size of the gathering and brings in needed contributions. He hopes he is improving GOP morale.

TO HEAR HIM TELL it, you get the impression he is following to the letter that old business college sentence taught to typing pupils which goes: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

Actually Ford is performing a delicate tightrope act unique in American history. He remains a loyalist to President Nixon, the man who named him to the vice presidency.

Yet in many ways he has made it clear he realizes his own chance of reaching the presidency is growing and that he already is thinking about how the country should be run.

A real pro

Lothar takes pictures to cheer people

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

From time to time in my 20 years in the journalism profession, I've written about persons being honored for years of dedicated service to their chosen field of endeavor. And if I was 20 years younger, I'd still turn to journalism for my livelihood - and work enjoyment.

Today I'd like to share with you some thoughts about someone dear to this newspaper and the citizens of Western Wayne County - our very own Lothar Konietzko, chief photographer for the Associated Newspaper Group for 20 years.

LAST YEAR WHEN Panax officers asked if I would consider transferring from the Macomb Daily in Mount Clemens to Associated Newspapers, they emphasized: "If you like good photography, you'll have it made at Associated. Lothar's one of the best in the news and feature photography business..."

It didn't take long to agree, and based on the testimonials from the citizens—Lothar is more than a photographer.

"Lothar treats us with dignity. When he's at our functions to take pictures, we know it's not just another assignment for the Daily Eagle. He makes us feel like we're important to the newspaper," senior citizens of the Wayne-Westland Community School District emphasize.

"WHEN WE SEE LOTHAR on Main Street, we welcome him as a fellow Belleville resident," readers of our weekly publication, The Enterprise, repeat.

At the Romulus City Hall, Lothar gets the same kind of a greeting. "For us, Lothar serves as the eyes of the Romulus Roman with his pictures of city projects and student activities at our schools," Roman readers stress.

Lothar joined Associated back on April 15, 1954 - as a photographer. But in the 20 years his camera eye has recorded the events of Western Wayne County, he's also served as the newspaper's "goodwill ambassador."

Lothar was born and raised in Germany. As a young man he took a deep interest in forest ranger work. "I still love the outdoors. But each day man continues to pollute our forests, streams and recreation areas," he lectures at every opportunity.

IN THE CLOSING DAYS of World War II, he was recruited into the Luftwaffe. During the short span he piloted aircrafts, Lothar made one "direct hit." The hit was against a Soviet tanker in the Baltic Sea.

Then one day while on a landing approach, he was caught by two pursuit Mustangs - and survived a crash landing.

When the war ended, Lothar had one goal. Get to America. "I was proud of my ancestry, but I was envious of the American people. I wanted to live in a country free of fear. I wanted to live in a country governed by the people in a democratic process—and free of dictators."

And today you couldn't find a more dedicated American than Lothar Konietzko. "When I hear people complain about America, I tell them to go live in a foreign land—then they'll find hell on earth."

HE ALSO OFFERS this advice to native born Americans: "America is more than a nation of free people. She stands as the bastion of freedom and democracy for other peoples who live at the discretion of the ruling government."

In the area of photography, some of the shutterbugs I've come to know over the years usually specialize in one or two fields of news photography. Lothar is the exception. He loves to photograph school children, senior citizens and average Americans doing something for the betterment of their communities.

When it comes to awards, Lothar has enough to paper the walls of a recreation room—and the awards never went to his head.

FOR LOTHAR, the best reward is when a young man says: "I remember you from a long time ago. You came to our school and put our pictures in the newspaper." Or when a society for the handicapped, writes: "The children love you..."

The other day I asked Lothar if the last 20 years as a newspaper photographer have been enjoyable, and he said: "I'd do it all over again...and I mean coming to America too!"

I was vacationing in Pennsylvania the week Lothar marked his 20th year in photo-journalism. On my return I offered my apology for the delayed congratulatory salute, and he responded: "I hope to be around 20 more years, catch me the next time."

Sorry Lothar, 20 years is too long to wait. Congratulations and thanks from everyone at the paper for being more than just a photographer on assignment...

Defends credit rating data

To the Editor: Tom Ochiltree's article on "secret data records" is filled with the usual quota of inaccuracies we find so frequently in newspapers today.

No one has been "stripped of his credit rating" because of some computer foul-up as there are no credit ratings in the files of Credit Bureaus in the United States.

Instead, we merely compile identifying information on each consumer such as name, address, social security number, date of birth and marital status. To this we add the actual ledger experience of the consumer's purchases on credit and the manner in which payment was made.

Other file information consists of public record information available to anyone who cares to look relating to the consumer's ability to pay such as civil suits, judgments, garnishments, tax liens and so on.

Since enactment of the Fair Credit Reporting legislation the experience under the law has demonstrated what Credit Bureaus have said for years.

The record of accuracy in our industry is far higher than you will ever find in either the federal government which hungers and thirsts after regulating us or the news media who love to misrepresent us to the unsuspecting public.

Salutes Huron board

To the Editor: If possible, I wish you would share my open letter to the Huron Township Board.

Dear Board Members - This is just a note to congratulate you for your concern for our community by refusing to renew the license for the dancing girls here in our town.

I know that these decisions are especially hard to make in today's so-called "adult society," but it is good to know that there still are some public officials who look out for the good of their community - rather than the pocket-book.

Again, I thank you on behalf of all our citizens who are opposed to pollution.

Praises Romulus youths

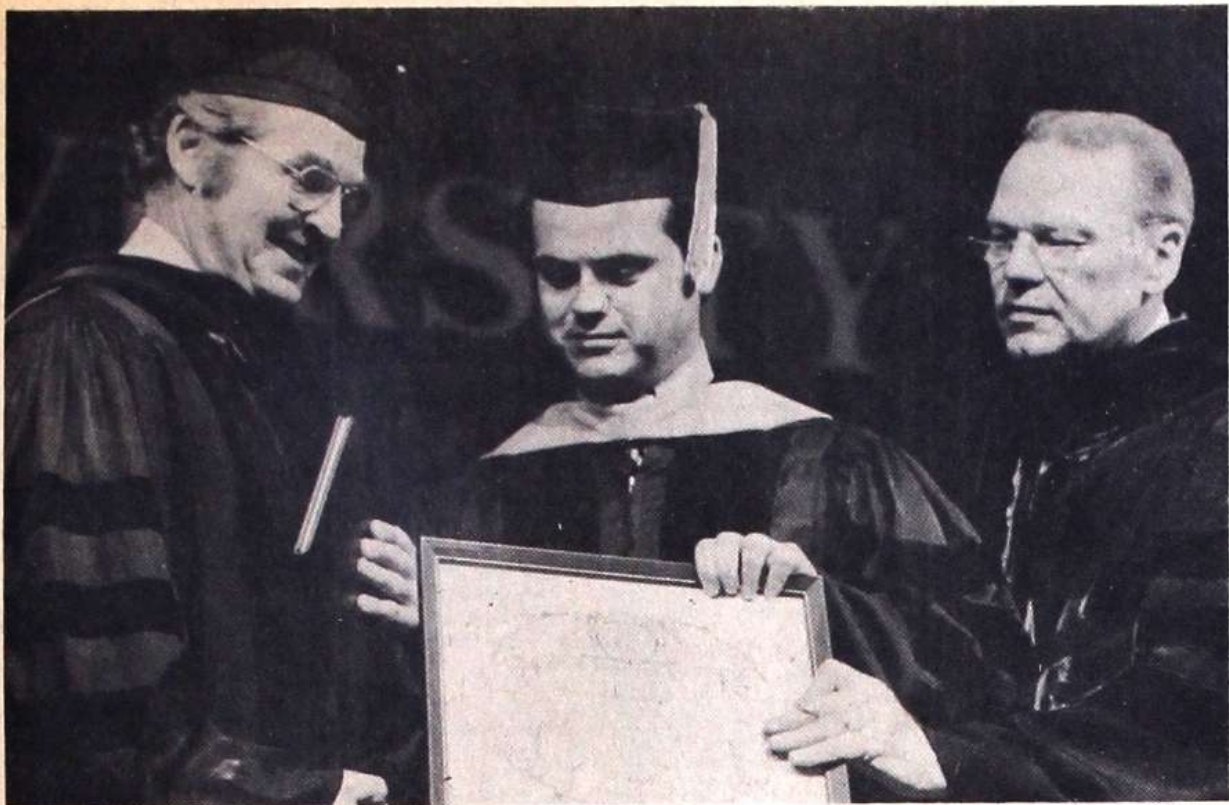

To the Editor: I was so pleased to read in the Roman that some of our young persons are helping to distribute ecology literature and ridding some of our roads of litter.

Too often the newspapers only write about young persons that get in trouble. I'm glad to see the Roman newspaper recognizes this and helps promote our dedicated youths and community.

Hannan PTO sets spring carnival

The annual spring carnival, sponsored by the Hannan Road Elementary School PTO, will get underway at 10 a.m. Saturday. Highlights of this year's festivities include a bake sale, rummage sale, cake walk and a fancy-work booth.

There will be games for the kids, including the popular moonwalk, a PTO spokesman said. A local artist will have paintings on display and a drawing will be held for a teddy bear, two battery operated toy chain saws and a doll.

A refreshment stand also will be set up.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used by the PTO for various school projects and equipment purchases.

Bakery goodies, fancy-work and items for the rummage sale are needed to make this year's carnival a success, the spokesman added.

There also is a need for help in the various booths.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

Recreation commission studies funding policy

A request for a township contribution to the Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth Baseball Association is being studied by the Van Buren Recreation Commission.

The township board last week tabled the request when Van Buren Township Trustee Fred Domen said the recreation commission is trying to set up policy on the handling of such requests.

Domen added that the commission will try to have the policy ready for the May 14 meeting of the township board.

In a letter to the township, L. Lee Walls, secretary-treasurer of the Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth Association, said last year 150 boys were involved in the baseball program.

He added that the "Babe Ruth Organization" involves local boys from 13 to 15 years of age and the Connie Mack Team includes those from 16 to 18 years of age.

"The program has enjoyed generous support of many local businesses and individual residents of Belleville for a number of years," Walls said. "The costs for equipment has risen and additional funds are needed."

He added that the Belleville-Van Buren Babe Ruth League

"would appreciate your to such a valuable program consideration of a contribution for boys in this community."

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKE, JR. — DIRECTORS

Have you heard complaints these days about alleged lack of old-fashioned courtesy, respect and manners? Have you noticed a disturbing trend toward incivility on highways, streets, in offices, stores and public places where people congregate? Certain facts are unmistakably clear. Every human being is a person. Politeness between people honors people as people. Good manners cost nothing but buys a lot of happiness and contentment. Good manners is an excellent tie to bind families and nations together. In manners as in everything else, mankind should take a close look at the perfect example in the Man from Nazareth. Graciousness and gentlemanliness were constantly evident. He sloughed off the slights and insults. His standard of behavior was quite simple. Mainly, it was just being nice - regardless...

REPRIEVE FOR MACHINE—The copying machine at the Fred C. Fischer Library was doomed for recall last year when its revenues failed to fill the quotas set by Wayne County. But Helen McClatchey, head librarian, didn't give up hope; she appealed to the city of Belleville and local organizations for help in purchasing the copier as a permanent part of the library. She was about to give up (her requests having met with failure) when a Belleville businessman, Ted Hooten, stopped in and offered to lend the money for the machine. Income from copies (which are 10 cents each) is slowly but steadily reducing the loan and last week the representative from Welcor Corporation in Detroit, Vine Smith, (left) was in Belleville to present the keys to Hooten (right) who, in turn, gave them to Mrs. McClatchey (center). The copy machine is available to everyone in the community during regular library hours. —Enterprise Roman photo.

FRANK HOAG of Liberty Street with his daughter, Mrs. George Wilson and her friend, Miss Helen Watts, were in Ann Arbor recently to attend a party at the home of the Paul Hoags in celebration of the 20th birthday of the latter's son, Robert Lee Hoag.

Among interesting events was a visit to Fort Sumter and a boat trip around the harbor. They also spent several days at Hunting Island State Park where the young folks enjoyed swimming in the ocean, sun bathing on the beach, the many beautiful flowers and 75 degree weather.

MRS. JOSEPH Spring of Liberty Street returned home recently after having spent the Easter vacation with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spring, and daughter, Kay, of Plymouth, on a trailer trip to Charleston, S.C.

Romulus women will gather at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school hall on Neville Street. The menu will feature stuffed cabbage and chicken. Price of admission is $2 for adults; 75 cents for five-to-12 year olds; and 50 cents for tots.

A special show will be presented by the Girl Scouts with dances from the roaring 20s and square dance routines planned. An added feature will be a 30-minute canine show. G.T. Raymer and his two Doberman Pinschers, Jacko and Lori, will stress the importance of traffic safety in their performances.

Study Club, guests, tour Girlstown

The Women's Study Club of Belleville met for an open house at Girlstown on Quirk Road. The gathering on April 24 concluded the club's project to raise money for the home.

Members and guests toured the new lakeside home and learned of its purpose and function.

Arranging the afternoon were Mrs. Merle Touse, Mrs. Adger A. Wall, Mrs. Thomas Stevens and Mrs. Lester Corzine. Mrs. Gillman Mullreid presided at the refreshment table.

Women of the Moose

Belleville Chapter 1135 of the Women of the Moose is sponsoring a mother-daughter potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. May 7.

Plans for the evening are being handled by Fran Melick, who is coordinating the dinner and entertainment.

Those attending the meal should bring a favorite food dish to pass.

In other activities, the Academy of Friendship has invited guests from other Moose chapters to take part in May 13 chapter night festivities.

Five members of the Belleville group will be receiving their friendship rings. A luncheon will be served following the meeting.

Nominations for officers also will be presented at the meeting.

A new member to the chapter is Dorothy Roberts, a transferee from Detroit. She was welcomed to the group during a recent business meeting.

At that meeting, a hand-made pillow, the dark horse prize, was won by Olga Henderson.

Kill the larvae

If standing water cannot be eliminated, examine it carefully to see if it contains mosquito larvae, or wigglers. If it does, apply a safe insecticide to the entire water surface. Check with a reputable dealer for an insecticide that is ecologically sound, but effective for your problem.

Control of larvae in fishponds and ornamental pools needs special attention. To kill larvae without poisoning plants and fish, spray a very light mist of a pyrethrum oil solution, available from insecticide dealers. Do not apply more than one ounce of spray per 100 square feet of water surface.

Showers honor May bride-elect

TWO RECENT miscellaneous showers honored May bride-elect, Sue Smolen of Belleville. The first was hosted by Irene Smolen at the V.F.W. Hall on Bemis Road with 90 relatives and friends arriving from Wyandotte, Detroit, Portland, Romulus, Redford, Ann Arbor and Belleville.

The hostess dispensed with games and just let the guests enjoy a social evening complete with door prizes and a full-course meal. The pink and white decorations, which added a bridal touch to the room, were the work of a close friend, Celia Rossi of Belleville.

When Sue and her fiancé, Jim Bellinger of Portland, opened their many household gifts they were assisted by four future attendants: Edras Bardle and Val Riddle of Redford; Cathy Sembor of Ann Arbor, and Nancy Smolen of Belleville.

A second bridal shower was held in Portland at the home of Cheryl Ann Shinever who welcomed 25 relatives and friends of the bridegroom for the afternoon party.

Wedding theme games and a buffet lunch highlighted the activities which the bride's mother, Mrs. Mike Smolen, and her sister, Nancy, attended.

Sue and Mike will be married May 11 at Holy Trinity Chapel on the campus of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Florida is "family" destination

VARIOUS MEMBERS of the Gardner clan have been in Florida recently to soak up the sun, to fish and to relax.

The Cade Gardner of Charles Street were the first to depart, taking a leisurely week to travel to Largo where they visited Paulette Smith, formerly of Belleville. They also took in a catch of snook and red drum while ocean and surf fishing in the area.

After a week's stay they traveled south to Punta Gorda to call on Mrs. Gardner's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Oris Geer, who winter in Florida. They spent even more time fishing and continued the pastime when they completed their vacation near Fort Myers.

A couple weeks later the Gardner's son-in-law and daughter, the Leif Melands, and their son and wife, the Richard Gardners, left Belleville for the Sunshine State.

The Melands, who had their six-year old son, Erik, and three-year old daughter, Melissa, in tow, headed for Fort Myers to visit Leif's dad.

The Richard Gardners, in the meantime, motored to Flagler Beach on the East Coast with their travel companions, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mitchell of Belleville.

The Melands and senior Gardners returned home together; their three-day trip being highlighted by a visit to Ruby Fall at Lookout Mountain.

Men's Club hosts dinner-dance

THE MEN'S CLUB of St. Anthony's Church hosted another successful party recently when members and guests gathered in the school hall for cocktails, steaks and dancing.

Glenn Lehman once again took care of the chef detail, manning the charcoal grill and turning out some 80 luscious delicacies. Don Meyer handled the musical end of the proceedings, booking the George Teller combo for the evening. And Jack Burcroff worked his usual magic and transformed the room into an intimate mini-nightclub setting.

NEW RESPONSIBILITIES — The First Church of Christ Scientist of Ypsilanti has elected Marian Kerbyson Sprague of Chelsea (left) and Jessica Van Sickle of Belleville (right) as First Reader and Second Reader, respectively. The readers, who will serve three-year terms, carry the main responsibility for the church's Sunday and Wednesday evening services. Their primary duty is to read the Christian Science lesson-sermon. Since the church has no ordained clergy, local members are elected to fill all administrative posts and to conduct services. Both Mrs. Sprague and Mrs. Van Sickle are members of the First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Mass. and both have served as administrative board members and Sunday School teachers. A number of Belleville residents are members of the Ypsilanti church.

Beef recipes geared for thrifty cooking

Special toppings spruce up plain burgers in a jiffy, whether broiled indoors or out. This spicy curry sauce gives burgers a Far East treatment that will provide new taste-provoking appeal, says Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock & Meat Board.

All it takes to produce the zesty topping is the addition of raisins and a touch of curry powder and onion salt to a mixture of sour cream and mayonnaise. Flaked coconut and chopped peanuts add the finishing flourish.

To prepare beefburgers, form 2 pounds ground beef into 6 patties 1/2 to 3/4-inch thick. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat 7 to 8 minutes on one side; turn and broil 6 to 12 minutes longer, to desired degree of doneness.

Creamy Curry Topping

1/4 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup mayonnaise
3/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
2 tablespoons raisins
2 tablespoons flaked coconut
2 tablespoons coarsely chopped peanuts
Combine sour cream, mayonnaise, curry powder and onion salt. Chill 1 hour. Stir in raisins. Spoon topping on burgers and sprinkle with coconut and peanuts. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

'Bubble and squeak'

Sunday's leftover roast beef can turn Monday's lunch or dinner into an interesting eating experience when "Bubble and Squeak" is prepared. Simply finely chop or coarsely grate 1/2 head cabbage. Now for the "bubble"—cook the cabbage in boiling water until just tender and drain thoroughly. Lightly brown 6 slices of cold roast beef, seasoned with salt and pepper in 1 tablespoon cooking fat or drippings and remove to hot platter to keep warm. For the "squeak" heat an additional tablespoon of fat in the frying-pan, add the cabbage, season with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon each pepper and nutmeg and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until cabbage is lightly browned. Board approves purchase

Township fire fighters eye new equipment

Fire fighters in Van Buren Township will have a tele-squirt to help curb fire destruction in the future. The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees recently approved an expenditure of $27,500 for its purchase.

The new piece of fire fighting equipment, which will be mounted on an existing fire truck, enables firemen to control a water nozzle either from the top of the truck or on the ground and direct a heavy flow of water on a fire from a height of 50 feet.

The township's authorization to purchase the tele-squirt was made following a report by Van Buren Fire Commissioner Darwin Kureth.

KURETH SAID the tele-squirt will be kept at the Van Buren Fire Department No. 2 on Ecorse Road, west of Belleville Road.

He added that as apartment projects jet up in the area such a piece of fire fighting equipment is needed.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton

Gollwitzer said that the money to purchase the tele-squirt may have to be borrowed.

The supervisor added that it may take up to six months before the tele-squirt is delivered to the township. During that time, the township can find means of financing the purchase of the new equipment.

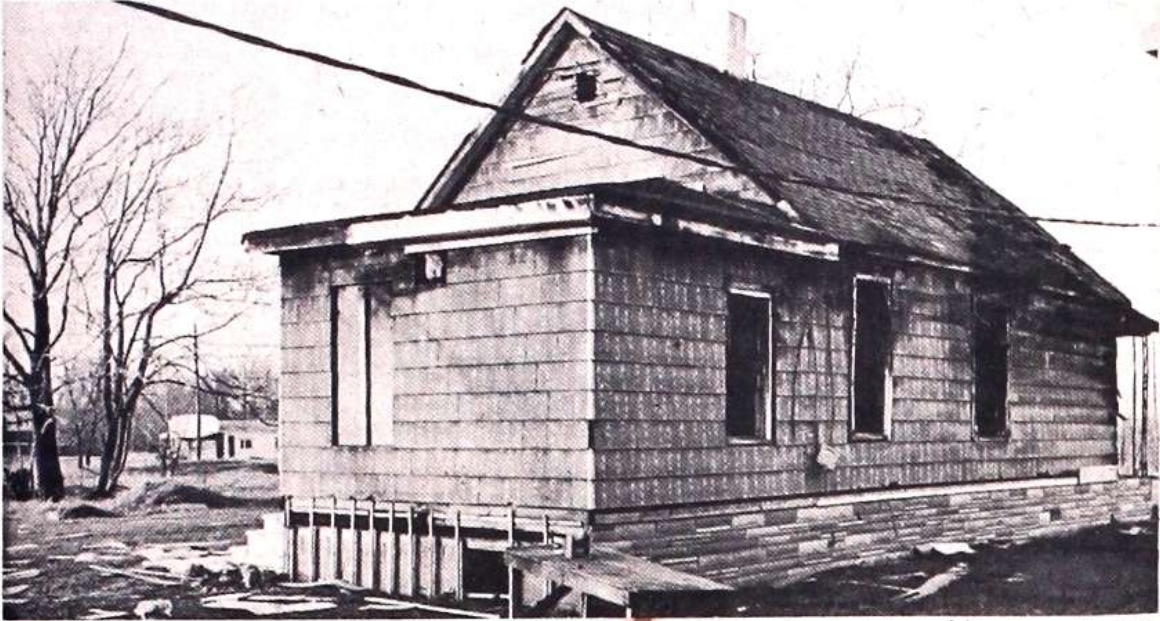

IN OTHER BUSINESS at a recent meeting, the trustees approved the advertising of bid proposals for the purchase of a new car for the township ordinance office and for a riding mower tractor for the department of public works.

The trustees also: —adopted the 1971 National Electrical Code and Supplements as the township's electrical code; —authorized the taking of bids on the purchase of two doors with panic hardware and safety glass for the township hall; —referred for study to the township attorney the specifications and inspection sheets for the construction of private roads and drives in the township, and —approved a request made by Van Buren Building Insp. Darryl L. Robson for him to attend a three-day plan examination seminar to be held in Chicago on May 22-24.

RIPE FOR FIRE — This abandoned home near the Romulus urban renewal area has been extensively vandalized, and "torched" twice by area pranksters. It is just one of several homes in the community which serve no need to the residents, but present a hazard, if set on fire by youngsters "looking for the excitement of a fire truck," according to assistant fire chief Bruce Hamel. Hamel has asked residents living near such homes to keep an eye out for vandals and to inform the police when one is spotted. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

Alumni group aids women students

The Women of Wayne (WOW), the women's alumni association of Wayne State University (WSU), has awarded a 1973 incentive scholarship to Veronica Lang of 8457 Whitehorn, Romulus.

May 15 is the deadline for scholarship applications from women planning to attend WSU on a part-time basis in September. Applicants must be between the ages of 25 and 55.

Applications are available at Alumni House, Wayne State University, Detroit 48202 or by calling 577-2167.

Award recipients will be announced in July.

WOW, as another service to women students, operates a child care center on the university's main campus and sponsors a loan fund that has provided more than $50,000 in temporary aid since its inception.

League of voters rates Ford high

The League of Conservation Voters has given Congressman William D. Ford (D-Mich) a 95 per cent score for his 1973 voting record on conservation issues, the highest rating in the Michigan delegation and one of the highest in the entire Congress.

The league, a national non-partisan organization, monitors Congressional votes on a broad range of issues, such as energy, land use, nuclear safety, environmental education, transportation and population control.

In selecting the 1973 votes for analysis, the league did not count unanimous votes or bills that won or lost by wide margins.

The 19 votes chosen for 1973 were selected, according to the league, to give citizens "a more representative picture of where Congressmen stand on a broad range of issues."

Ford's voting record on conservation legislation has consistently ranged above 90 per cent. His cumulative voting record on conservation issues is the highest in the Michigan delegation in Congress, a spokesman said.

Inmate study useless

Prisoner training offers no licenses

Prison inmates training to be barbers and beauticians — and the taxpayers who pay for the training are in for some disconcerting news.

The state is training inmates for trades for which they cannot receive a state license to practice.

The inconsistency has become the target of an attack by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland), who introduced a resolution calling for a study of Michigan licensing laws in relation to ex-offenders.

"MICHIGAN TAXPAYERS have a right to gripe about governmental waste when the state trains prison inmates for positions, such as barbers or beauticians, for which they cannot be licensed by the state," Faust said.

"The solution should be obvious," he added. "We have to change the licensing laws or begin to train inmates for other trades in which they can be employed after their release from prison."

Faust said the choice between the alternatives is not simple.

"Before it changes the licensing laws, the state must consider the safety and welfare of the people of Michigan in the job placement of ex-offenders," he said.

FAUST SAID job training programs at state prisons "must be continued, not only for the sake of the inmates, but for the sake of the rest of society."

"Ex-offenders who can't find a decent job after they are released from prison may have little choice but to depend on welfare or illegal activities for financial support," said Faust.

State approves sale of bonds

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has given the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) the green light for construction of its proposed hospital in Taylor.

The commission approved the proposed sale of $17 million in construction bonds for the development of the 232-bed facility. It will be located on Telegraph Road.

Completion of the structure is slated for December, 1977. The Taylor hospital will join Annapolis Hospital of Wayne.

Beyer Memorial Hospital of Ypsilanti, Seaway Hospital of Trenton and Outer Drive Hospital of Lincoln Park in serving the PCHA's 23 member communities.

Included in the authority are Romulus, Belleville, Van Buren Township and Sumpter Township.

County unit eyes task force funding

A committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has recommended funding for the controversial Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force until at least Nov. 30.

The commissioners' Public Safety and Judiciary Committee approved a recommendation to appropriate $352,000 for the task force, following a 30-day study of its operations.

The funds will replace an expiring federal grant.

The task force became a center of a dispute within the county government last fall when Board Chairman Robert FitzPatrick questioned the effectiveness of the organization.

When he received support from other board members, an official of the task force claimed their concern may be self-serving, because of pending investigations.

During later discussion on the issue task force director Roy C. Hayes said one commissioner was being investigated, because of allegations leveled at her by her estranged husband early last year.

The commissioners set aside the $352,000 appropriation, and the Ways and Means Committee requested the 30-day study before taking action.

Consideration of the appropriation, with the recommendation of the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee, will be sent back to the Ways and Means Committee and finally to the full board.

Markers
dot state
freeways

A total of 4,700 speed limit signs were changed last month to comply with the state's new 55 miles-per-hour limit on highways, according to a spokesman for the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The reduction of the maximum speed limit on the state's highways was mandated by the federal government in a move to conserve gasoline.

The estimated cost of the project was set at $80,000.

Lack of compliance with the order would have cost the state federal funding for highway projects. The state's share of federal construction allocations amounts to $200 million per year.

School has final reunion

Rosary High School, an all-girl, parochial school on Detroit's west side, will close its doors for the final time at the end of the 1973-74 school year.

Kicking off the festivities will be a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday for the alumnae, their husbands or dates, and the faculty, past and present.

On Sunday after a noon Mass, participants will join together for a short program and informal reception.

The school opened in 1956. Its first graduating class was in 1960. More than 4,000 girls from the Detroit metropolitan area have attended the school, which is closing because of economic reasons.

For further information on the weekend's activities, contact Judy Biretto at 273-7029.

Congressman Ford will seek reelection to his sixth term

By MITCH KEHETAIN
Editor of Enterprise-Roman

If any congressional aspirant Democrat had been hoping for a shot at going to Washington, he can scrap his wishful-dreaming--Congressman William D. Ford will seek reelection for a sixth term.

Though the 15th District Democrat has not "formally" announced he will seek another term in the Congress, he is letting "friends" know through a letter that he intends to seek reelection.

In the April 20 dated letter to "friends," the congressman said: "I am now beginning my 10th year in Congress and I have accumulated enough seniority to begin moving into positions of leadership."

AT A "PRESS appreciation" session Friday,

Ford told The Daily Eagle the April 20 dated letter was to give advance notice to his friends and supporters of past elections that he intends to seek another term.

Observers of Democratic Party politics in Western

Wayne County see Ford's "letter to friends" as a move to ward off possible opposition in the August Democratic primary.

Two years ago State Sen. William Faust, a Westland Democrat, entered the primary against Ford--but withdrew from contention several days before the filing deadline.

Ford won a hotly contested primary battle with Faust 10 years ago.

THE FORD HOSTED

"press appreciation" party was spotlighted with an address by J.F. Ter Horst, chief of the Detroit News Washington bureau.

The veteran Capitol Hill newsman said the major problem in covering the nation's capital in recent years is "getting in to see the congressmen, senators and ranking administrative cabinet chiefs."

He admitted that "I got the cold shoulder from the Nixon people when my newspaper urged that the President resign from office."

As for the impeachment tempo in the House, Ter Horst said: "The votes are there for the impeachment of President Nixon. But what would happen in a Senate vote is questionable."

Ter Horst ruled against the possibility that the President would consider resigning.

"Mr. Nixon is a fighter so don't count on him resigning under pressure," he said. "He's no quitter."

Township voters get ID cards

New voting identification cards are being distributed to 7,000 registered voters in Van Buren Township.

The salmon-colored cards were prepared in compliance with provisions of the state's election laws.

Besides the voter's signature, the voting precinct number and location for both township and school district elections, the wallet-size voting identification cards contain informational data on district areas for congressmen, state and county representatives as well as district court.

Director addresses Kiwanians

The Romulus director of economic development and planning, John Chihan, was the featured guest at a recent Romulus Kiwanis Club meeting.

Chihan told the Kiwanians about progress in the city's road paving program.

Also attending the meeting was Charles Howe of the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. He spoke on the scouting movement in Romulus.

Church holds paper drive

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville is sponsoring a paper drive May 18. Residents wishing to donate papers, magazines and old telephone books are asked to call the church at 697-9288 for pick-up service.

Student joins honor society

A Romulus resident, Robert Begle, was among 19 Albion College students named to the Phi Beta Kappa Society. Begle, a senior, lives at 9546 Diddle.

Students named to the national scholastic honor society must be in the top 10 per cent of their respective classes and maintain at least a 3.4 overall grade point average in a liberal arts curriculum.

Residents earn college degrees

Two Romulus residents were among students receiving degrees at commencement exercises at Madonna College in Livonia.

Mary Margaret Baker received a bachelor of arts degree, and William J. Wadsworth received a bachelor of science degree during last week's ceremony.

The college awarded degrees to 136 students, its largest graduation class.

Junior high enters contest for equipment

Students at South Junior High School for two months have worked on a "Care-Free Contest" sponsored by the Care-Free Sugarless Gum Co. to win money for the purchase of library equipment for the Belleville school.

The object of the contest supervised by Ch. 9 was the writing of "Care-Free Gum" on pieces of paper. The student council at the school directed the contest to see which grade could produce the most entries.

The seventh grade assisted by two teachers, John Stosick and Edward Bonczak, were the winner by a margin of 60.00.

On the last day of the contest, the entries were tabulated and 748,250 were sent to the Care-Free Sugarless Gum Co. by Richard Krzesinski, chairman of the contest at the school.

School officials issued thanks to Belleville businesses which donated paper to help the "Care-Free" cause.

A teacher and advisor to the student council, Richard Kiessel, said the school is hopeful of winning the contest's top prize of $1,000 for the purchase of library equipment. The prize also includes a rock concert.

Automakers see full production with '75 series

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Eagle Automotive Writer

All but one U.S. automobile manufacturing plant will be operating this week, yet more than 108,000 workers, including thousands from the General Motors Corp. Hydramatics Plant in Ypsilanti, will remain laid-off.

The announcement came from the major automobile manufacturers last week as production reached its highest level of the year — but was still 20.5 per cent behind last year's pace.

Many automotive workers have been on indefinite lay-offs since January when the energy crisis was at its peak. Industry spokespersons said many will be back on the job before the 1975 model run begins this summer, though auto sales are down 26 per cent during 1974.

GM in Siberia

While sales are down on the domestic front, two automakers revealed they are seeking avenues for more overseas deliveries.

General Motors said it is negotiating a $100 million trade agreement with the Soviet Union in which the automaker will receive timber for the delivery of earth moving equipment.

The equipment, which will cost between $30,000 and $80,000 per unit, will be built in plants in the United States, Canada, Scotland, and Brazil.

NEGOTIATIONS ON constructing a huge truck manufacturing plant in Siberia by GM are continuing.

Chrysler's Argentine subsidiary has signed a contract to sell 9,000 vehicles to another communist country — Cuba.

The contract, signed last Tuesday, is part of a series of anticipated deals for American car makers in Argentina.

They are hoping to sell Cuba more than 42,000 vehicles for between $130 million and $150 million.

THE THREE AUTO-MAKERS with plants in Argentina were given waivers to deliver vehicles to Cuba by the U.S. State Department. Since 1960, the U.S. government prohibited trade with the Castro regime. State Department officials say the waiver does not indicate a change in the 1960 policy.

Auto news roundup

New pick-up truck

Ford Motor Company said it will introduce a new two-door pickup truck on June 7.

The new model, called SuperCab, will be designed to compete with Dodge's Club Cab pick-up.

THE NEW PICK-UP will be available with a 139 or 155-inch wheelbase, and will come with an optional rear seat.

It was not revealed whether the model will be constructed at the firm's assembly plant in Wayne.

Vega expansion

General Motors has revealed that it will add 89,600 square feet of space to its Lordstown, Ohio plant to help boost production of the firm's hot-selling Vega.

The announcement came while the firm was constructing a 176,000 square foot addition to the plant for small parts production increase.

Wray transferred

GM's Fisher Body Division announced that Edward J. Wray, resident controller of the division's plant in Livonia, will be transferred to the firm's Marion, Ind., plant.

Harold K. Ednie, administrator-price study and parts costing for the firm's Warren plant, will replace Wray, starting May 1.

Destination hike

Chrysler, caught in an inflation pinch, announced it will raise destination charges on its 1974-model cars by $15, and on its trucks by $19.

THE CHARGES cover the cost of transporting a vehicle from the plant to a dealer showroom.

The announcement came after the other three domestic automakers, Ford, General Motors and American Motors, raised their destination charges between $15 and $25 during the last two months.

The raises came after all four automakers promised the federal Cost of Living Council they would not raise the price of automobiles during the 1974 model year.

The CLC ruled, however, that rises in destination charges are not price rises.

AREA STUDENTS who may place in the national 1974

Plymouth "Trouble Shooting" automotive repair contest could end up in Dallas this summer competing for prizes and scholarships ranging up to $90,000.

In the contest, high school automotive mechanic students search for dysfunctions in the engines of Chrysler products and are graded on speed and efficiency in correcting the problems.

The finals of the contest, following 100 regional contests, will be June 16 through 18.

Unit urges ed board to rename Junior High

The Romulus teacher, principal and administrator who died last February after two decades of service, Lorena G. Burton, will be remembered if it is up to the Romulus Community Relations Commission.

It has proposed that the junior high school to be constructed in northern Romulus be named after Mrs. Burton, who was the first black woman in the Romulus junior high school system and who later became the first black teacher and principal.

In a prepared resolution, the commission said: "Lorena G. Burton served the Romulus school system for nearly two decades as a teacher, principal and administrator, and she devoted her career in education to the concept of equal educational opportunity for all people of all ages."

"She was a long time Romulus resident actively involved in development and betterment of the community; therefore, the Romulus Community Relations Commission requests that the Romulus Board of Education rename North Junior High School in her honor to be called Lorena G. Burton Junior High School."

The commission asks that citizens who wish to support the renaming of the school contact the board of education at 941-1600 to demonstrate their support.

Criticizing profits Hart blasts companies for rising fuel prices

By TOM OCHILTREE
Enterprise-Roman
Washington Bureau Chief

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) insists that the price increase enjoyed by the major oil companies would nullify any tax relief Congress might grant average Americans trying to keep their personal budgets in balance.

Already price boosts for petroleum products are costing consumers more than the Vietnam War did in any one year, he said.

In a statement submitted Thursday to the Senate Commerce Committee on the pending consumer energy bill Hart said what the petroleum industry needs "is not fatter profits, but a little competition."

HART TOOK issue with John C. Sawhill, the new director of the Federal Energy Office who described the recent price increases in gasoline and oil as "reasonable and necessary to encourage development of new energy sources."

The senator described Sawhill's testimony before the committee as "scary." Gasoline prices are running generally a cent or two above the half dollar a gallon level. Sawhill predicted the price might level out at about 60 cents a gallon.

Church celebrates 47th anniversary

The congregation at the First Baptist Church in Romulus will be celebrating its 47th anniversary Sunday.

Scheduled to commemorate the anniversary is a dinner from 1 to 4 p.m. at the church, 11412 Delano St., Romulus.

Members of the First Baptist Church and the Mt. Olive Baptist Church in Detroit will take part in a pot luck dinner offered by the women of the First Baptist congregation.

The Rev. Jack E. Ely of Mt. Olive Baptist Church will deliver the afternoon message to mark the end of the anniversary celebration.

Clean-up program attracts residents

The first of two work bees used to clean up Van Buren Park attracted a number of volunteers.

Van Buren Township Director of Parks and Recreation Jeffery G. Clark said that the work bee held at the 101-acre recreational site Saturday attracted 200 volunteers who collected three truck loads of debris. The park is slated for opening on Memorial Day, May 27.

The debris was hauled away in a township sanitation truck to a Sumpter Township disposal site.

The second work bee is scheduled for May 11. Persons wishing to assist township officials in the park clean-up program are asked to contact Clark at 699-2001.

Driver must check signal

A driver has some control over being hit from the rear, said a spokesman for Allstate Motor Club. He can help avoid a costly and painful rear-end collision by periodically checking proper functioning of his own taillights and turn signals.

South band tours 5 other schools

The South Junior High School Jazz Band recently ended a performance tour of five elementary schools in the Van Buren Public School District.

The band performed: "Watermelon Rock," "Born Free," "House of the Rising Sun," "For Once in My Life" and "Varsity Drag."

The band was accompanied by four young girls, known as the "Varsity Draggers," from the school's concert band. The girls were dressed in "Roaring 20s" fashions. They performed the Charleston when the band played "Varsity Drag."

The band was well received by the students at the five elementary schools, according to officials.

The South Instrumental Music Department is organizing a Jazz and Marching Band Program that will add to the band tradition at the junior high school.

"The jazz and marching program would not be possible at South Junior High School if it were not for the fine organization of the curriculum activity in the afternoon," South Principal Don White said.

"South Junior High has an activity hour — 25 minutes a day — where students attend a planned program."

State changes bureau's goals

A major reorganization of personnel and procedures to integrate all modes of transportation planning, has been initiated by the State Highway Commission.

By executive and legislative action, the commission was made responsible for all state transportation programs.

In addition to highways, the newly reorganized Department of State Highways and Transportation will plan and implement state programs involving buses, trains and railroads; planes and airports; non-motorized transportation such as bicycles and reserved bike trails; car pools; innovative people movers, and water port development.

For special season

Senate studies Mahalak's deer bill

The recently-passed House bill to establish a special deer hunting season for muzzle loaders, is under the consideration of the Senate. It was introduced to the House by Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (43rd District).

The bill recognizes the growing number of sportsmen who use antique firearms, Mahalak said. Hunters use muzzle loaders to identify with the heritage of early hunting in America. It is a challenging form of hunting.

"The bill would give them an opportunity to hunt under more primitive conditions than they can during the regular deer season when they must share the woods with as many as half a million other hunters," the Romulus Democrat said.

"Also, some of the enthusiasts would like to hunt in the frontiersman's buckskin garb which would make them prime targets during the regular season."

THE BILL PERMITS antlered male deer to be hunted with muzzle loading weapons of at least .44 caliber from Dec. 1 to Dec. 20. The season would be limited to the Lower Peninsula and the natural resources commission would be able to limit it to certain areas.

The bill also amends the language of the present hunting statute to prevent the muzzle-loader season from interfering with other established hunting seasons (partridge and bow and arrow deer season).

Area track teams meet Tuesday

Churchill favored to win WW Relays

WINNING FORM — Versatile Otty Turrentine shows how it's done as his put of 43 feet, 8 1/2 inches earned him the five points in the shot put against Livonia Bentley last week. However, his efforts weren't effort as the Tigers lost a 79-44 league decision. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Westland John Glenn is the early favorite to dethrone Livonia Churchill as Western Wayne Relays champion at next Tuesday's annual track meet at Belleville High.

Thirteen schools will compete in the 15th running of the meet which will begin with the field events at 5:15 p.m., according to Belleville Athletic Director Harry Hidenfelter, meet chairman.

Hidenfelter has scheduled a meeting of all coaches tonight at 7 p.m. in room 115 of Belleville High, where he will conduct the drawing for heats.

The meet field will include Inkster, Romulus, Robichaud, Wayne Memorial, Cherry Hill, Taylor Center, Kennedy and Truman, Garden City East and West, and Livonia Franklin and Bentley, along with host Belleville, John Glenn and Churchill.

Taylor Truman, a second-year school, will compete for the first time.

Churchill won last year's relays with 39 points, barely edging Wayne Memorial, with 37. Bentley was third with 28.

League status eludes Romulus

Does anyone want Romulus High?

School officials are starting to wonder while becoming frustrated at their futile attempts to join an athletic conference to rid themselves of the confining status as an independent.

Romulus' latest rejection on the league front came two weeks ago when a newly-formed loop including Livonia Clarenceville, Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Oak Park and Woodhaven said no to the school's bid to join. That was the ninth dead-end Romulus had run into since becoming an independent in 1971 upon the dissolving of the Twin Valley League—and left Romulus officials wondering if they will, indeed, ever belong to a league again.

BUT THEY aren't quitting. Principal Joel Carr and Athletic Director Ed Baum said they are now looking at the possibility of submitting an application to the Northwest Suburban Conference, which was left with an opening upon the exit of Oak Park High.

But that's all they're doing—looking, according to Carr.

"Oak Park told us we ought to apply for the spot they vacated in the Northwest Suburban Conference," said Carr. "We haven't done anything about it yet and we're just thinking about it right now."

Baum said he did not know if Romulus would apply for membership in the league.

Long faces cage team from USSR

By TOM MOORADIAN

I feel that most of us prefer that nations settle their disputes by shooting baskets rather than bullets.

So, it has been pleasing to watch from this corner and see the ever-increasing exchange of athletes and sports teams between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Athletes, for some reason or other, appear to handle the problem of foreign exchange with more statesmanship than, ironically, politicians.

And the latest exchange between the two great powers will feature one of the area's top prep cagers, Romulus' Johnny Long.

Long, a 6-foot-5 senior who has made all-state and All-Area teams for the past two years, has been picked as one of 11 Michigan high school players to face a visiting USSR Junior Basketball team representing Moscow.

THE RUSSIANS are coming Saturday to the University of Detroit High School Stadium, located on West Seven Mile Road and Greenlawn. Tipoff is slated for 8 p.m.

"I'm really honored to have been one of the players chosen," said Long via telephone last night. "I just hope we play our best."

Long, unfortunately, never got to the "Big House", a dwelling which prep coaches and players call Jenison Field House and the Crisler Arena where the state finals are held.

However, his stunning performances throughout the years have earned him national recognition as one of the top prep players in the nation today.

He scored 1,600 points in his high school career, including a 23-point average this year. He hit a career high 46 points in the district tournaments which Romulus has won for the past three years.

THE TRIP IS sponsored by the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union and the Russians' visit to Detroit will be the final stop of a 15-day trip to the United States.

The AAU has drafted Sam Washington to coach the elite Detroit Metropolitan area team which will be comprised of such notables as Terry Tyler (6'7") of Northwestern High, Toni Jamison (6'3") of Cass Tech, Turono Anderson (6'3") of Kettering, Sam Washington (6'0") of Birmingham Brother Rice, Tom Zalagari (6'5") of Detroit Catholic Central.

The local lineup also will include George Weaver (6'0") of Northwestern, Bill Lelich (6'7") of Brother Rice, George Giddings (6'8") of Chadsey and Ken Jones (5'10") of Northwestern.

THE GUY THE Detroiters will have to keep their eyes on apparently is 6-foot-7 Nikolay Fesenko, who scored 27 points in their opening loss to New York, 100-81, and 22 points in their victory over Long Island, 94-90.

All of the players range from 16 to 18 years and the Russians apparently are grooming this team for the 1976 Olympic Games which will be staged in Montreal in 1976.

Oh, yes, the Soviets are the defending Olympic and World Basketball champs.

That's something that just can't sink into this sheet of white paper.

And I'm sure a lot of other basketball fans see red when they recall that final basketball game between the USSR and the USA which decided the Olympic championship.

1st victory

Steven Mena's second goal of the night snapped a 2-2 third period tie and rocketed Daly Restaurant to a 3-2 victory over the Romulus Recreation Icebreakers, in Romulus Hockey Association Spring League action at Westland Arena.

Mena's first goal gave Daly a 2-1 second period edge after teammate Jeffrey Sparks had scored and the Icebreakers' John Justice also tallied. Mark Golembiewski shoved the puck past winning goalie Jay Ocholik in the third period to tie it up for the Icebreakers, followed four minutes later by Mena's clincher.

Britz beats Bulldogs

Romulus hurler Rick Britz scattered three hits as the Eagles turned back visiting Dearborn Heights Robichaud 3-1 on Monday.

Britz, who fanned six and walked one, missed a shutout in the top of the seventh when Tony Simmons tripled and scored on losing pitcher Jim Ellerholz' sacrifice fly.

Simmons, who also doubled, and a single by Dave Kissau were the only other hits off of the Romulus pitcher.

ELLERHOLZ gave up two runs in the fourth on a single by Donnie Moore who stole second and made it to third on Jerry Goodman's single. Goodman then stole second and the Eagles then pulled off a double steal.

Max Stillwagon's single drove in the second Romulus run.

The Eagles added an insurance run in the fifth when Chuck McBride doubled home Max Fisher who had walked to get aboard.

Romulus High's baseball team is digging in for a hectic next four days, when the Eagles will play three games against rival Belleville, Westland John Glenn and Lincoln Park.

Romulus increased its win total to a respectable 4-5 level last week with victories in two of three contests and Monday's 3-1 decision over Dearborn Heights Robichaud (see related story).

Coach Bill Cuhnan's squad has been putting the pieces together lately after enduring a four-game losing streak in the season's early stages, and now boasts a pitching staff which rivals the area's best. The Eagles will get the chance to prove they're on their way this afternoon at 4 when they host Belleville.

Two weeks ago, Romulus knocked off Belleville, 3-2, on a three-hit hurling gem by Rick Britz. The tough Eagle staff also includes Kurt Linderman and Simon Marsiglia, who pitched their way to victories last week over Ecorse and Willow Run.

Linderman was the whole show against Ecorse, holding the hosts to one hit in a 11-0 win. Linderman fanned four and received batting support from Mike Nielson, who went 3-for-3 with a two-run double and four RBI's.

Romulus scored three times in the first and five more in the fifth to lock it up.

GOING UP—Belleville's Derrick Darty is a small man (5-8) but he's doing a big job for the Tigers these days in the high jump. Darty, who has cleared 6 foot, 3 inches this season, school combining distances in the field events and four-man teams running the races. The two-mile will feature individuals.

The running events will start between 7 and 7:30 p.m., Hidenfelter said.

Belleville High's track team takes a 0-3 record into today's Suburban Eight League meet at home against Redford Union, then braces for a Thursday invasion by Trenton.

The Tigers endured a miserable warm-up for the busy two days by falling to Dearborn Monday, 82½-40½.

Belleville captured just five first places in the 15 events.

Seven first places weren't enough as Belleville lost a Suburban 8 Conference dual track meet to Livonia Bentley last week, 79-44.

"We're young and I feel we're going to mature in time for the league meet," said Tiger coach Bob Boudreau. "We're just not a dual meet team."

Gary VanBuhler posted a double win as he won the hurdles for the Tigers, clearing the highs in 16.0 and the lows in 20.4.

Belleville took three of the four field events with Bruce Ford (pole vault), Otty Turrentine (shot put) and Derrick Darty (high jump).

The tigers also won the mile run with Ed Conrad (4:49.4.)

Hitting slump sends Belleville into skid

Although the time to panic certainly has not yet arrived, there is ample cause for Belleville High's baseball team to worry about its unimpressive showings in the early stages of the season.

Still plagued by a lack of hitting, the Tigers have dropped three of four Suburban Eight League games and four of five overall. To be even more specific, Belleville has scored two earned runs in its last four games.

"We're just not coming through in the clutch," sighed Coach Vit Kaminski. "Our pitchers and defense are doing a good job but we're not hitting."

HURLER Kevin Bara tossed a six-hitter at Livonia Bentley and struck-out eight, but suffered a 3-2 loss nonetheless as Bentley won it in the sixth on an outfield error which allowed the Bulldogs' Dan Waslewski to score from third. The loss dropped Bara — the ace of the staff — to 1-3.

Belleville tallied its runs in the second when Dave Dapsi singled, was erased trying to score on Robin Hook's double, two batters walked then two scored on a wild throw to first.

Belleville had seven hits, three each going to Dapsi and Hook.

DEARBORN pushed across all three runs in the fifth en route to a 3-0 blanking of the Tigers in another league test.

Gerald Memering suffered the loss in his first trip to the mound. Belleville threatened in the second but stranded two runners. The Tigers totaled four hits.

Belleville was scheduled to meet Trenton yesterday and travel to Romulus today. The Tigers also have dates set with Plymouth Salem Friday at home and a Wyandotte tournament Saturday at 7:30, when they will compete against 19 other

Romulus thinclads defeated again

By DALE GOWING
Of Enterprise-Roman Staff

The runners continue to stay away from Romulus High track practices, and Coach Jesse Merriweather—as a result—continues to despise the system of awarding varsity letters.

Merriweather has been unsuccessful in luring athletes at the school to join the track team this Spring, causing the seven runners who did show up to endure much embarrassment in their first three meets of the year. Seven of last year's stars, he added, did not come out for the sport this year because they already received their varsity letters last season.

Huron '9' puts it together

At last! New Boston Huron finally won its first baseball game of the season Monday, but the victory still didn't give any indication that the Chiefs are ready to break out of their horrid batting slump.

Woodhaven was the non-league victim, falling 7-2 as ace hurler Ken DeLano won his first game in relief by notching strike-outs in eight of Woodhaven's last nine outs. Huron is 1-5 overall, 0-1 in the Huron League.

DELANO, WHOSE record is 1-3, replaced Wynn Krzyse in the fourth. Krzyse allowed two runs and two hits before Coach Ron Smith moved him to the outfield.

Huron collected seven hits off loser Bob Duclaus—but not "Deceived," warns Smith. "Those seven hits were divided among just four players," he said. "We're still not getting the hitting we should be getting. It seems like we're always hitting the ball on the ground to someone."

Huron scored once in the first, twice in the second, once in the third and three times in the fifth inning, while lone Woodhaven runner crossed the plate in the second and fifth. Arnie Ring, a senior outfielder, led the Chief hitting "attack" with two safeties and three RBI's. Catcher Jeff Gill also clubbed two hits.

Smith was somewhat encouraged by his infield's apparent defensive improvement, but was handed another worry when third baseman Tim Hinojosa dislocated his right thumb—his throwing hand—while making a diving, barehand stab of a ground ball.

"AND HE'S my best hitter," moaned Smith. Hinojosa's average is hovering around .300.

Last week, Huron's defense obliterated a stellar pitching job by DeLano by allowing Tecumseh to score twice in the third, thanks to a fielding error and a throwing miscue. Tecumseh won the league decision, 2-0, even though DeLano twirled a four-hitter and fanned 10.

The strike-outs hiked DeLano's season total to 40 for 19th-third innings of work.

The Chiefs also bowed to Riverview Gabriel Richard, 4-1, when Richard erupted four runs in the sixth after hurler Ken Kwasnik had coasted into the inning with a two-hitter going.

It was Kwasnik's first outing and he fanned five and walked one. Hinojosa and Gill rapped a pair of hits each as Huron scored its lone run in the fourth inning.

Romulus netmen bow, 5-2

"Disappointed." That's how Romulus' tennis Coach Tom Baldwin summed up his feeling after the Eagles lost a 5-2 decision to visiting Dearborn Heights Robichaud yesterday.

"Sure I'm disappointed," said the rookie Eagle mentor, "because I felt before the meet that we were good enough to beat these people and we didn't."

The loss left Romulus with an over-all 2-6 record and it will face Trenton today.

Earlier in the week the Eagles managed to give River Rouge a battle before bowing 4-3. Romulus had little difficulty with Woodhaven, winning 7-0.

Chiefs are undefeated

Huron fares well at Blissfield

New Boston Huron, undefeated in the league, came up with a couple of gold medals at the Blissfield Royal Invitational Relays over the weekend.

Don Johnson cleared 12 feet to win individual honors in the pole vault while Mike Sobodash leaped 21 feet, 6 3/4 inches for the best individual performance in the long jump.

Sobodash also placed second in the high jump, (6 feet) and in the high hurdles (15.7).

THE CHIEFS also had a fifth place with their pole vault relay. Tom Mayael and Fred Berner combined with Johnson to make up the team.

"I was very satisfied with our performances," said Huron mentor Mike Matthews whose Chiefs garnered 34 points. "We took 11 people and

Britz hurls 3-hitter

Marsiglia threw a seven-hitter at Willow Run in 5 and one-third innings, striking out five in a 6-2 Eagle triumph. Max Stillwagon's bases-loaded single did the Flyers in the opening frame. He finished with three RBI's in going 2-for-2. Romulus totaled four runs in the first and one each in the third and sixth stanzas, as Willow Run could only counter with single tallies in the third and sixth.

Romulus Coach Cuhran praised the defensive efforts of Don Moore as a key to the victory.

River Rouge spoiled the Eagles' plans for a three-game win streak, however, edging them 5-4 on a hot first inning.

The Panthers grabbed a quick 5-1 lead and Romulus had to play catch-up while hurler Britz settled down to fan nine batters and allow six hits in six innings of work.

Romulus had ample opportunity to tie it up, but stranded the tying run on base in each of the final three innings. The Eagles gathered five hits off Rouge and three runs in the fifth, thanks to Moore's bases-loaded double and Stillwagon's 2-for-3 performance at the plate.

Romulus travels to John Glenn Thursday for a 4 p.m. meeting with the Rockets and takes a day off Friday before journeying to Lincoln Park Saturday for a 2 p.m. test.

Addison won the team trophy with a total of 84 points. Meanwhile, Huron remained undefeated in the league as they disposed of Carlson 68 1/2-54 1/2. The Chiefs earlier whipped Monroe Jefferson 87-36.

Riders to takeover Hines with bike day continuation

Bicycling enthusiasts who enjoyed last fall's bike day along a 10-mile stretch of Hines Drive can have four times as much pedaling pleasure this year, according to State Rep. John F. Markes (D-Westland).

"The response to last year's bike day was so overwhelming that I have made arrangements with the Wayne County Road Commission to

Controller for HCMA has retired

The controller of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) has retired. He is Edward S. Downey, 65.

Downey was among the first of 12 employees hired when the initial HCMA staff was planning a system of Metroparks to service the citizens of Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

John W. Hogan replaces Downey. Both are residents of Detroit.

set aside four days this year for our citizens to enjoy bicycling on Hines Drive," Markes said.

The 10-mile section of Hines Drive from Newburgh Road to Ford Road will be closed to motorized traffic on Saturday, June 1, Sept. 7 and Oct. 5, Markes said.

"If the participation grows, a larger portion of the drive will be closed off to permit bicycling on those dates occurring later in the year," he added.

Closure of Hines Drive for the bicycling event is done by barricading 11 access points, as done when the floodplain is inundated.

"The governments of Livonia, Westland and Dearborn Heights have joined in the effort to make the event a safe bicycling activity we can all enjoy," Markes said.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, with assistance from local police departments, will provide the necessary manpower for the event.

"All bicycling enthusiasts are invited to participate," Markes said. "And those transporting their bicycles to the area will find ample parking west of Newburgh Road and at the Warren, Telegraph and Merriman roads access points."

State eyes judge's salary

By BOB BERG
Enterprise Roman Lansing Bureau Chief

The Michigan Legislature is moving to change the way it has been giving pay raises to most judges in the state because the old way looks like it was illegal.

Involved in the matter is the paycheck of every appeals court, circuit court and district court judge in Michigan.

The Senate Appropriations Committee is awaiting an opinion from Attorney General Frank J. Kelley before it moves on the judiciary appropriation for the next fiscal year.

THE PROBLEM arises from the fact the salaries of appeals court, circuit court and district court judges are set by law and the Legislature has been granting raises without changing the law.

The last time the law was changed was in 1970. At the time, appeals court judges had their salaries set at $38,500 per year. Since then they have risen to $41,961 a year.

Circuit court judges were given $24,000 a year by the state. That has risen to $26,157 for this fiscal year. District court judges were given $19,500 by the state in 1970 and that has risen to $21,279 for the current fiscal year.

"The way they've been doing it is illegal, said one legislative legal analyst. "But they didn't ask any lawyers about it."

"THEY JUST went ahead and did it. It would be a tough thing to challenge in the courts because the only court that could rule on it without a conflict of interest would be the Supreme Court. The other judges would be ruling on their salaries."

The back door approach to giving pay raises to judges was adopted because it was easier and because there was quite a hassle in 1970 before the judicial pay rates were set. Appropriations bills fly through the Legislature just before summer adjournment and few legislators are aware of the thousands of details in them. They have to trust the appropriations committee of each house.

The problem with this approach is that the Michigan Constitution forbids changing a law indirectly — that is, by passing a new law with no mention of the old law.

Sen. Percy maps path to the White House

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Bureau Chief

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., is following one of the iron-clad rules of politics and horse racing—never let the opposition get so far ahead that you lost contact with what is going on.

The result there has transformed the Illinois senator from a "closet presidential aspirant" to a generally recognized fully committed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1976.

FROM HIS POINT of view, Percy's logic can not be faulted. The latest Republican disaster in Michigan unquestionably has increased Vice President Gerald R. Ford's chances to reach the White House.

Percy has sized up Ford as his main rival for the top spot on the GOP national ticket two and a half years from now.

This assessment by the Percy camp is regarded as the right one regardless of whether Ford is still vice president then or already has succeeded to the presidency through the resignation or impeachment of Richard Nixon.

Percy and Ford, a Michigan man, share center stage with two other Republican biggies—former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

NOW THAT ROCKEFELLER has moved closer to the center he and Ford occupy similar ideological ground. Reagan is the favorite of much of the party's conservative wing. That leaves Percy as the only one of the front runners who could be described without question as a "progressive Republican."

One reason Percy has surfaced so strongly now is to keep alive that philosophical segment of the party.

Percy clearly was bitterly disappointed when Democratic candidate J. Robert Traxler defeated James M. Sparling, Jr., for the Michigan Congressional seat formerly occupied by Federal Judge James Harvey.

SPARLING MATCHED Percy's idea of what a Republican candidate for the House should be like. In normal times Sparling presumably would have won easily in the eighth district which includes Bay City-Saginaw and Michigan's rural "thumb."

At a Washington news conference Percy made it clear he felt Watergate was casting a long shadow over all the Republican incumbents who will be seeking re-election to the House in November.

Noting that Sparling lost despite the fact that President Nixon came out to the district personally to campaign for him, reporters asked Percy if the hard pressed Republican Party would be better off if Nixon resigned before November.

"PROBABLY SO," Percy replied. In any event, in Percy's view, the President "is a dubious asset" for any Republican who might appear beside him on the platform.

Of all the leading Republicans, Percy is the most issues oriented. Explaining why this is a particularly frustrating time for politicians of his style, Percy said:

"Watergate has diverted attention from the qualification of candidates and the overall program of the two parties."

The extent of Percy's detailed preparation for the next GOP national convention has surprised many people. During the time from now until then the Illinois senator and his backers have projected an $11 million campaign.

They already are buttonholing senators, representatives and members of congressional staffs. Audio-visual presentations are given at pro-Percy Meetings. Close ties are being maintained with Republican governors.

EVEN LEADING figures are being expected to be included in various state delegations as being evaluated as to how they would react to Percy's candidacy under various circumstances.

Sources close to the Illinois senator say Percy is thinking of making a tactical change in his campaign. He may bypass the first two presidential primaries, in New Hampshire and Florida, in order to set off to a flying start at the relatively early Illinois primary.

This could involve a dangerous gamble, however, since Percy cannot at this stage be assured of 100 per cent backing from all elements of Illinois' Republican Party.

To make their school beautiful

It is that time of the year when one's thoughts turn to the planting of flowers and garden preparation and students attending Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville are no exception. Enterprise Roman editor wins newswriting prize

EAST LANSING — Fourteen newsmen and 11 photographers have won awards in the 1973 Michigan Associated Press Newswriting and Newsphoto competition.

Tom Marquardt of the Big Rapids Pioneer and James S. Granelli of the Oakland Press won the top newswriting awards; while Robert Coon of the Detroit News and Brenton E. Patton of the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News won the top newsphoto awards.

TWO PANAX affiliated newspapermen last night also were honored by the Michigan wire service. They include Mitch Kehetian, editor of The Enterprise-Roman and Joe Crachiola, a photographer at The Macomb Daily.

Kehetian's story also appeared in The Roman-Enterprise.

CERTIFICATES and cash prizes were presented to the 25 award-winning newsmen and newsphotographers by Lt. Gov. James Brickley and Rich Opper, Michigan AP bureau chief.

Kehetian was awarded a third place prize in the AP's "brights" newswriting category, while Crachiola took second place honors in the sports photo classification.

Kehetian's story was about a patient who decided to pay a 40-year $5 debt to Dr. Clarence Carpenter of Romulus. The woman said the debt "bothered her for 40 years..."

Last year Kehetian won a second place award in the AP's 1972 spot news competition—while serving as city editor of The Macomb Daily. He was appointed editor of The Eagle in March last year.

MARQUARDT WON the sweepstakes award for newspapers of less than 17,500 circulation for his story exploring the problems of Big Rapids families trying to get an appointment to see a doctor.

Granelli won the sweepstakes award for papers of more than 17,500 circulation with a series on the exploitation of service station attendants in the Pontiac area.

Other winners in the newswriting competition include:

SPOT NEWS — first Dick

Robinson, Oakland Press, a series on medical malpractice claims; second William A. Clark, Detroit News, a series on Ruth Postif, who was killed in the Detroit area; third, William Grant, Detroit Free Press, coverage of the Detroit teachers' strike.

Sports — first, Vern Plagenhoef, Grand Rapids Press, the story of UCLA's final practice before the 1973 NCAA title game; second, Jerry Green, Detroit News, a story concerning the day when Detroit was a city of champions; third, Jack Moss, Kalamazoo Gazette, the story of young sailors just returned from a 5,000-mile cruise.

Features — first, Edwin G.

Pipp, Detroit News, a Sunday magazine story on salvaging wrecked World War II allied aircraft in the Netherlands; second, Thomas C. Fox, Detroit Free Press, a series on the aged; third, John A. Puravs, Saginaw News, a series on crime in the downtown area.

Brights — first, Beverley Hall, Lansing State Journal, the story of her experiences working for an escort service; second, Betty Hansen, Saginaw News, the story of a small boy in the big outdoors; and Kehetian's third place story on the patient who paid a 40 year $5 debt.

Scene bizarre as old, young mingle

By GENE MIERZEJEWSKI
Panax-Mellus Writer

The scene in the Rock and Roll Farm in Wayne was bizarre to an outsider. Intermingling with the young couples dancing to the music of Soundown were older faces, and their bodies did not gyrate to the rock beat.

There was one reason they were present, and that was to see their hero - a man whom many ranked only below Bob Dylan in the 1960's folk music scene, Phil Ochs.

After the band exited the stage, a stocky man in his 30s, his right hand wrapped in a cast, came up to the microphone. Suddenly the 1970s were gone to be replaced by the spirit of the 1960s, when the strains of "Draft Dodger Rag" filled the bar.

—For your— Entertainment

PHIL OCHS was back. "The only thing I care about in a song is that it has quality," Ochs said.

Best known for his protest music, Ochs admitted he would enjoy a song expressing a view opposing his if the tune were well written. "I usually write my songs on impulse after I've been touched by inspiration," he added.

OCHS HAS recorded seven albums in the past decade and has outspoken ideas on the subject of music.

"I don't like the so-called glitter rock, since I think its popularity reflects the sickness of American society," he said. "The most honest music being performed today is country-and-western. I prefer to listen to that and 1950's rock and roll more than anything."

A former intimate of Dylan, Ochs said he hoped that "the king's" latest tour will cause a change in the American music scene.

"He used to be a great writer and the talent still shows through on the older songs," Ochs said. "What I hope will happen is that the kids who've never been exposed to him will see him and start imitating him."

"THEN MAYBE we'll start hearing creative music again."

Dylan and Ochs split up their friendship over some criticism Ochs made about a Dylan song, Ochs said. About three years ago the feud ended.

"He called me out of the blue and asked: 'What's happening?'," Ochs said. "That ended the hard feelings."

He added with a laugh: "Dylan's a friendly, warm family man nowadays, but I liked him more when he was the uptight artist."

OF THE SONGS he has written, Ochs said his favorite is "Changes," a song about life.

I, Clarence J. Hoffman, Jr., Clerk of Sumpter Township do hereby certify the foregoing to be a true copy of the minutes taken at the regular board meeting of April 23, 1974, held at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23483 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Michigan.

Gardners invite 'unwanted guests' with careless planting procedures

A green thumb may ease the food cost crisis but it also may attract unwanted dinner guests, rats, according to the Wayne County Department of Health.

Residents beginning backyard gardening should be aware of the potential food supply they are making available to rats. Many of the more common vegetables and fruits grown are favorite foods for rats, these include: tomatoes, cantaloupe, sunflower (seeds), windfalls from fruit trees and some squash.

Residents can protect themselves from infestation by observing good gardening practices. Proper spacing between rows is important to allow for growth of plants, ease of weeding, and most importantly, spaced and well maintained rows are less attractive to rats.

ANY SIGNS of rodent activity such as burrows, tracks, or droppings also will be more visible to the gardener when proper spacing is observed.

Staking and pruning plants such as tomatoes also will make your garden less attractive to rats and will yield a higher percentage of good fruits.

Cultivate as often as necessary to keep weeds under control.

Cultivation is preferred to mulching as it provides the gardener a chance to closely scrutinize his garden for signs of rat activity, county officials said. Mulching materials such as peat moss, ground corn-cobs, straw, shavings, and paper commonly provide rat harborage.

BLACK PLASTIC and cardboard which frequently are being used as mulches have the highest potential for rat infestation.

Storage sheds also provide harborage for rats, the officials added. Careful maintenance is required to deter rats as none of these sheds are rodent proof.

A secondary food source for rats is provided by improper composting. Vegetable refuse should never be left exposed. Compost materials should be sprinkled with a small amount of fertilizer and lime and covered with a layer of soil.

Besides being necessary for efficient decomposition this procedure will deter even the hungriest of rats, the county official said.

Before beginning task

Prepare equipment for summer chores

Gardeners and lawn experts are starting to get itchy green thumbs. And it's time to begin getting lawn mowers, garden tillers and other equipment back in shape to insure trouble-free operations.

Although the type and size of machinery differs, basic maintenance steps apply to most and are necessary for smooth-running equipment. Most engines are air-cooled today and the vast majority of problems result from long winter storage with a partially filled fuel tank.

Gum deposits and varnish formations tend to build up on interior fuel lines, carburetors and tank surfaces. To remove these deposits, drain all fuel out of these areas and flush with a solvent or cleaner designed for the purpose.

IF NECESSARY, remove the carburetor and soak in fuel oil, diesel fuel or some safe solvent for several hours until the deposits are loosened. Do not use gasoline for this purpose. Equipment gets quite dirty under normal conditions with potential damage to cooling systems. Give the system a good check; concentrate on removing dirt and debris from air passages around cylinder heads and blocks.

To play it safe, remove metal shields surrounding the engine to thoroughly clean these areas. On two-cycle engines, inspect and clean the exhaust ports which can become clogged by carbon deposits, resulting in power losses.

On all four-cycle engines play it safe by draining old or "used" oil and replace it with clean, high-quality lubricant.

CHECK THE spark plugs and clean, re-gap, or replace if necessary. Be extra-sure that plugs are tightened properly when replaced.

Whether dealing with oil, solvents, plugs, or other maintenance procedures, keep your owner-operator's manual handy. The instructions and recommendations are necessary for safe handling and proper maintenance of your lawn and gardening equipment.

State adoption laws fail to protect child

By GARY M. OWEN
State Rep. (D-22nd. District)

The failure of Michigan's adoption statutes to protect the rights of all parties of adoptions became apparent recently in Ypsilanti when a natural mother regained custody of her child after nearly two years of litigation in the courts.

Because the child resided only with the adoptive parents during the two years, it was a traumatic experience for all.

Rita Kay Harris, an unwed mother who signed her baby over to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Horn of Ypsilanti when the girl was a week old, changed her mind during the 90-day time limit allowed by law in the case of direct adoptions, and started court proceedings to have the baby returned to her - the natural mother.

THE LEGAL fight that ensued took more than 18 months to be decided by our courts. The adoptive parents sued for the right to keep the child while the mother sued to regain custody.

In the end, the adoptive parents lost Rhonda Marie Horn. Rhonda was placed in a foster home for a few days pending the return of her to her mother, when Miss Harris took Rhonda from the home and disappeared with her.

Because of the trauma involved in a legal custody battle during which the child lives with the adoptive parents, I have introduced a bill in the House of Representatives that would change the adoption laws. The bill would do three things:

—it would reduce the time period for a rehearing on adoption matters from 90 to 20 days;

—it would prohibit the placement of children for adoption when parental rights still are under probate court jurisdiction; and —it would restrict direct consent adoption to relatives of the child. All children placed for adoption would first be placed with an adoption agency and the adoption agency would have the responsibility of placing the child. UNDER THIS system, the natural mother and the adoptive parents would not have knowledge of each other. This has proved to be much the better system. Much less trouble has arisen out of adoptions through an agency, while many problems have arisen from direct adoptions.

By placing the child to be adopted in a foster home until the proposed 20-day appeal time has lapsed, the trauma that occurred in the case of the Horns would not be repeated.

The mother would have time to change her mind about giving her child up for adoption, but when that time limit was past she would have no further legal recourse. THIS WOULD protect the rights of the natural mother and the adoptive parents as well. But, most important, it would protect the adopted child from a traumatic experience such as Rhonda Marie Horn has experienced. The first concern of our laws should be for the welfare of the child. It is clear that our present adoption laws do not properly address this important point.

Employees reject hospital contract

It's back to the drawing boards for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) labor negotiator Leo Bonamy.

The authority's employees union has rejected a contract offer by Bonamy which was "the maximum allowed by law."

In a 165-107 vote Thursday, the employees rejected an immediate 5.5 across-the-board increase, coupled with another 5.5 per cent increase June 30, which would have raised the average employee wage 38 cents per hour.

The increases were the largest percentages allowed under the economic stabilization act.

"There is talk that the controls will die April 30," Bonamy said. "I also have heard they may be extended, although that may be rumor. "If they are extended, I would say it's unjust to hospital employees who would be discriminated against simply because of where they work."

Bonamy has been negotiating with the PCHA's more than 1,000 employees as part of a wage re-opener agreement in a contract ratified a year ago.

The contract expires June

THE TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN (WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN) ORDAINS:

Section 1. The 1971 National Electrical Code, the 1971 Supplementary Uniform Electrical Rules, and the Reciprocal Electrical Council Manual of Operation are hereby adopted by reference and made a part of this Ordinance as though set forth here in full.

Section 2. Printed copies of the 1971 National Electrical Code and the 1971 Supplementary Uniform Electrical Rules shall be kept in the office of the Clerk of the Township of Van Buren (hereinafter called "the Township"), available for inspection by the public.

Section 3. The Township Board shall employ or secure the services of an electrical inspector to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance and shall provide for the reasonable compensation for said inspector, provided that said inspector shall be a journeyman electrician.

Section 4 (a). It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage as an independent contractor in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring, equipment, apparatus, or fixtures for light, heat or power purposes where the electromotive force exceeds thirty (30) volts in or about buildings and-or structures located within the Township without first having procured a license as provided in this Ordinance.

Persons, firms or corporations applying for contractor's license must have at least one (1) member of the firm or employee holding a master's license.

A Board of Examiners is hereby constituted consisting of the Electrical Inspector of the Township, a representative of an electric utility company operating in the Township, a licensed electrical contractor and a licensed journeyman electrician. Said electrical contractor and journeyman electrician shall have had at least ten (10) years experience in electrical work. The members of said Board of Examiners shall be appointed by the Township Board for such terms as shall be designated at the time of appointment. This Board shall examine all applicants for master's, contractor's, or journeyman electrician's licenses. Applicants failing to pass will not be eligible for re-examination for a period of thirty (30) days. All applicants for licenses shall designate their legal address as the location of their residence in the case of master and journeyman electricians, and their legal address as the principal place of business in the case of electrical contractors.

The Board of Examiners shall prepare examination and license application blanks, prescribe the examination and meet at least once a month or on call of the Township Clerk to hold examinations. Due notice shall be given applicants of the date of examination.

(b). It shall be unlawful for any person to engage or advertise in the occupation of trade of master, contractor, or journeyman electrician in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring equipment, apparatus, or fixtures for light, heat, power or medical purposes where the electromotive force exceeds thirty (30) volts in or about buildings and-or structures within the Township without having first taken the examination and obtained a license as herein provided. This provision shall not apply to helpers and apprentices while working under the direction and supervision of licensed master or journeyman electricians who shall be present at all times when such helpers or apprentices are performing such work.

All applications for said examinations shall be in writing. The examination shall consist of an oral or written examination as the Board of Examiners shall determine, and such other practical tests and examinations as the Board of Examiners may prescribe. Stenographic notes shall be taken of all oral examinations.

(c). All licenses issued under this Ordinance shall expire on December 31st of each year and shall be renewed upon application by the licensee together with the payment of the required fee as shall be established by the Township Board. After March 31st, all licenses not renewed shall be considered cancelled and may not be renewed except upon approval by the Board of Examiners. Licenses shall be issued by the Township Clerk upon recommendation of the Board of Examiners. Licenses issued under this Ordinance shall be non-transferable and shall be displayed when requested. Electrical contractors licensed under the terms of this Ordinance shall not secure permits for work to be done by any person not employed by said electrical contractor.

Such Bond shall be a surety bond from a recognized and approved surety company authorized to transact business in the State of Michigan.

Any master's, electrical contractor's, or journeyman electrician's license may, after a hearing, be suspended or revoked by the Board of Examiners or the Township Board upon evidence presented that false statements have been made upon application for license or upon evidence presented that the person, firm or corporation holding such license willfully or by reason of incompetence has repeatedly violated the provisions of this Ordinance.

(d). The Board of Examiners is hereby empowered and it shall be their duty to make such rules and regulations concerning electrical work in the Township as may appear necessary, which rules and regulations shall be effective upon adoption by resolution or ordinance by the Township Board, and which shall thereupon supersede any provisions of this Ordinance in conflict therewith.

Section 5(a). No alterations or additions shall be made in the existing wiring of any dwelling, building or structure, nor shall any dwelling, building or structure be wired for the placing of any electrical lights, motors, heating devices or any apparatus requiring the use of electrical current at a potential over thirty (30) volts, nor shall any alterations be made in the wiring in any dwelling, building or structure after inspection, without first notifying the Township Clerk and securing a permit therefor. Application for such permit describing such work, shall be made by the person, firm or corporation installing same and a permit issued shall be to such applicant upon compliance with this Ordinance.

(b). This Section 5 shall not apply to maintenance and repairs on the premises of a person, firm or corporation regularly employing qualified electricians for that purpose, nor such minor repair work as repairing flush and snap switches, replacing fuses, changing lamp sockets, receptacles, taping bar joints or repairing drop cords.

(c). Nothing herein contained shall prohibit any bona fide owner of any single family dwelling and out buildings provided that said owner shall: (1) apply for and secure a permit in accordance with this Ordinance, (2) pay required fees, (3) do the work himself or herself in accordance with this Ordinance, (4) apply for inspections as provided herein, (5) receive written approval of the Electrical Inspector.

Section 6. When an application is made for a permit required under the terms of this Ordinance, a fee shall be paid in an amount as prescribed by resolution of the Township Board. When additional inspections are required due to any violations discovered, the applicant shall pay any additional amounts as required by the Township Board to defray the costs of such additional inspections.

Section 7. Upon the completion of any wiring or other work requiring a permit under this Ordinance, it shall be the duty of the person, firm or corporation installing the same to notify the Township Clerk, who shall notify the Electrical Inspector to inspect said work. If the subsequent inspection indicates that said work is in compliance with this Ordinance and does not constitute a hazard to life and property, the Electrical Inspector shall issue to such person, firm or corporation for delivery to the owner of the premises a certificate or inspection authorizing connection to the electrical service and the turning on of the current. All wires which are to be hidden from view shall be inspected before concealment and any person, firm or corporation installing such wires shall notify the Township Clerk giving sufficient time in which to make the required inspection before such wires are concealed.

Section 8. Periodically the Electrical Inspector shall make a thorough re-inspection of the installation in dwellings, buildings or structures of all electric wiring, electric devices and electric material that has been installed or that may hereafter be installed within the Township of Van Buren, and when the installation of any such wiring devices, and-or material is found to constitute a dangerous or unsafe condition, the person, firm or corporation owning, using, or operating the same shall be notified and shall make the necessary repairs or changes required to place such wiring, devices and material in a safe condition and shall complete such work within fifteen (15) days or any longer period specified by the Electrical Inspector in said notice. The Electrical Inspector is hereby empowered to disconnect or order the discontinuance of electrical service to such wiring, devices, and-or material so found to be defectively installed, until the installation of such wiring, devices and material has been rendered safe as directed by the Electrical Inspector.

Section 9 (a). It shall be unlawful to install or use any electrical devices, apparatus, or equipment designed for attachment to or installation on any electrical circuit or system for heat, light, or power, which is not in compliance with this Ordinance and otherwise safe and adequate for its intended use. The Electrical Inspector shall have the power to disapprove the use or installation of devices not fulfilling these requirements. Devices, apparatus, and equipment as approved by such generally recognized authorities as United States Bureau of Standards, Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York, Underwriters Laboratories, Occupational Safety and Health Act, American National Standards Institute, or National Fire Protection Association shall be prima facie acceptable, provided that the Electrical Inspector shall have the authority to disapprove any specific item which in his discretion is of faulty design or poor construction and the use of which will create a danger or hazard to persons or property.

(b). It shall be the duty of the Electrical Inspector from time to time to inspect electrical devices, apparatus, and equipment offered to the public for use in the Township to see that such items conform to the above requirements.

Section 10. The Electrical Inspector or any other authorized township official acting in his behalf shall have the right during reasonable hours to enter any dwelling, building or structure in the discharge of his official duties or for the purpose of making any inspection or test of the installation of electric wiring, electric devices and-or electric material contained therein, and shall have the authority to cause the turning off of all electric supply and cut or disconnect, in cases of emergency, any wire where such electrical currents are dangerous to life or property, or may interfere with fire or police protection.

Section 11. The Township Clerk shall keep complete records of all permits issued and inspections made and other official work performed under the provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 12. When the Electrical Inspector condemns all or part of any electrical installation or other work, the owner may within five (5) days after receiving written notice from the Electrical Inspector, file a petition in writing for review of said action of the Electrical Inspector with the Board of Examiners, upon receipt of which the Board of Examiners shall meet and determine whether said electrical installation complies with this Ordinance.

Section 13. This Ordinance shall not be construed to relieve from or lessen the responsibility or liability of any party owning, operating, controlling or installing any electric wiring, electric devices and-or electric material for damages to persons or property caused by any defect therein, nor shall the Township be held as assuming any such liability by reason of the inspection authorized herein, or certificate of inspection as herein provided.

Section 14. The provisions of this Ordinance shall not apply to apparatus and equipment installed by or for any public utility operating under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission and used primarily for the generation or distribution of electric current or for signal or communication purposes.

Section 15. All ordinances, resolutions, or parts thereof in conflict with this Ordinance are hereby repealed. Should any provision of this Ordinance be declared to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 16. Any person, firm or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars or imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or by both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Control officers eye dogs

The Romulus animal control officers will be on a seven-day operation in the future in an effort to cope with increasing instances of straying animals.

According to city director of animal control, George Hartgrove, the city has recorded 15 dog bites during the past week and captures 50 dogs.

"Anyone who owns a dog and allows it to run at large will be given a citation, will go to court and will pay a fine," Hartgrove said. "Presently, the courts are levying fines of $10 when an owner is found guilty of allowing their pets to run loose, but the charge is a misdemeanor and could result in a $500 fine, a 90 day jail sentence or both, in extreme instances."

Hartgrove said the animal shelter will be open six days a week between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

"Owners of animals that have been impounded can claim their pets at those times," he added.

The animal control officer also urges owners of female pets to have their pets spayed in an effort to control the number of wandering animals in the community.

Youth films slated

"Big Red" and "Bumbo" will be shown Saturday as part of the Romulus Jaycee movie program. The films for youth are shown at 1 p.m. at Romulus High School.

For information on the program, call 941-4335.

Deputy treasurer is named

A 27-year-old life-long Romulus resident has been hired as the city's deputy treasurer. She is Patricia (Gersky) McIntosh.

Mrs. McIntosh brings with her to city hall a business background. In 1965 she was graduated from Romulus High School and has worked at the J.L. Hudson Co., the GAC Finance Co. in Maryland and National Educational Television in Ann Arbor.

Romulus City Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz said Mrs. McIntosh "has a good background for this type of work and was the best applicant for the job."

Don't fool Mother Nature

Rainmaking bill worries legislature

By WESTHORN
Lansing Bureau

Some of his fellow lawmakers made jokes about fooling Mother Nature, when Rep. John M. Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, was beating the drums recently for his bill to allow counties to hire rainmakers.

But, Engler, a second-term legislator, said he only wants to give counties the authority to help Mother Nature.

The would not be done through hiring some Indians to do a rain dance, but with generators spitting out silver iodide particles.

THE PARTICLES are supposed to be able to increase rainfall or suppress hail, if the conditions are right.

"To call this rainmaking is really a misnomer," Engler said. "It is really weather modification."

"We can't take a bright sunny day and conjure up rain," he said. "There have to be rain clouds before you can induce rain."

Engler's interest in weather modification resulted from a controversy in Gratiot County over whether the County Board of Commissioners had the authority to use tax money for rainmaking.

RAINMAKING WAS tried with some success in Gratiot, Isabella and Montcalm Counties in 1972.

A Texas firm was hired to place 22 ground based silver iodide dispensing generators through the three county area.

Mini- Down PLAN

What you do first.

Let's assume you can qualify and are approved for a mortgage on the condominium you want at Woodbury Green — and you can come up with a couple of hundred dollars. You can then move in right away and start making regular monthly payments of $232.50 a month.*

What we do next.

We will credit each of your monthly payments* until there's enough for a down payment — as little as 5% of your purchase price at the lowest conventional mortgage rates available. Then, you take title to your condominium home, simply and easily as that. All the while you've been living in your Woodbury Green townhouse, enjoying the pool and the clubhouse and Belleville Lake and nearby Lower Huron Metro Park.

What you do now.

Come see the condominium townhouses at Woodbury Green. Check the features: 2 bedrooms, 1½ baths, Whirlpool kitchen; central air conditioning and more, and compare the value. Then ask our sales representative to do the figuring — and find out how easily you can move in at Woodbury Green.
